Democratic Nominee Pleased With Running Mate, Re-marking "Cox and Roosevelt, That's Catchy," Receives Promise of Support From McAdoo.

HIS UNDERSTANDING OF UNDERMAN 'ASSET'

'Golden Rule Better Than Bullet or Bayonet,' He Says in Speech in Old Home Town on Industrial Unrest.

Cox's Congratulations to Running Mate and Manager of Campaign

DAYTON, O., July 7.—Gov. Cox, the Democratic candidate for President, was busy today at his newspaper office trying to read a portion of the thousands of congratulatory telegrams which have been pouring in since his nomination. He arrived at the office at 9:30, fresh and energetic. With him, perusing the telegrams, was Col. George H. Wood, his former Adjutant-General.

Among the congratulatory telegrams received was one from William G. McAdoo, his chief opponent for the nomination. It said: "Heartiest congratulations and assurance of my cordial support." Another from Senator Carter Glass, former Secretary of the Treasury, said: "Please accept my congratulations on your nomination." Vice President and Mrs. Marshall also sent congratulations.

Franklin D. Roosevelt, the vice presidential nominee, sent the following telegram in response to the Governor's of last night: "The sincere congratulations and warm regards of your teammate are all yours. I will stop off on my way East to convey them to you in person."

Waterson's Congratulations Him.

One of the most highly prized felicitations came from Col. Henry Waterson. The Governor said he was particularly pleased over it because of the fact that it came from him the ideal journalist. Col. Waterson's telegram said: "Your nomination revitalized Democracy. It will stir the Democratic heart of the nation with a reflection of a triumphant past and a vision of a radiant future. To the bosom of one old Kentuckian it brings a flood of fighting memories along with the assurance of glorious victory."

Mrs. Cox Won Popularity as War-Worker in Chicago; Lover of Outdoor Life

Met Ohio Governor at Hot Springs, Va., Several Winters Ago—Would Be Young for President's Wife at 29, Father Says.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CHICAGO, July 7.—In a bleak and dusty storeroom in Washington street, Chicago, hastily fitted up a few hours after Congress declared war, sat Margaretta Blair at a telephone switchboard calling up scores and scores of women urging them to report at once at the Women's Council of Defense and enlist for war work.

A few moments after the forty-fourth ballot had been taken in San Francisco, the same young woman was again at a telephone, this time at Trails End, near Dayton, O., the country home of Gov. James M. Cox, whose wife she now is. She was calling up her father, Thomas S. Blair Jr., in his Chicago home.

"Daddy, dear," cried the wife of the Democratic standard bearer, "they've nominated him."

She was very happy and very excited. Blair commented.

"Naturally she would be. I was also and I wished, as I hung up the receiver, that her mother was still living."

If the Democratic choice for President becomes the nation's choice in November, Cox will begin his administration with a girlish wife as his chief counselor.

Mrs. Cox, who is the only daughter of the president of the Blair Engineering Co. of Chicago, is still on the youthful side of womanhood. Her father announced her age as 29.

Young to Be President's Wife.

"She's young to be a President's wife," he said seriously. Mr. and Mrs. Blair moved to Chicago from Pittsburgh when Margaretta, the daughter, was a baby. Blair is a man of wealth, and the head of a company which deals in heating plants and furnaces.

LAUCK SAYS BOOKS OF MONOPLY HIDE PROFITS IN COAL

Spokesman for Miners Tells Anthracite Commission Earnings Are 7 Times What Records Show.

SAYS COMBINATION CONTROLS INDUSTRY

Declares Real Profits Are to Be Found in Coal Railroads' and Sales Companies' Books.

By the Associated Press.

SCRANTON, Pa., July 7.—A charge that the anthracite coal industry is dominated by a monopolistic system that "presses up to squeeze the consumer and down to squeeze the wage earner, by diverting profits at points where neither can see them through the screen of bookkeeping and legal devices," was made today before the Anthracite Coal Commission by W. Jett Lauck, arguing the admissibility of exhibits on profiteering and monopoly on behalf of the United Mine Workers of America and to which the representatives of the operators introduced objections. Lauck also declared that the real profits of the anthracite industry were at least seven times the apparent profits.

The commission was appointed by President Wilson to arbitrate the difference between the miners and operators.

"The very fact that the operators object to these exhibits becoming a part of the official record," said Lauck, "constitutes the strongest conceivable argument why this case should not only receive this evidence but should give it first consideration in arriving at a determination of the facts."

Says Combination Exists.

"We contend there is no warrant for the assertion that the anthracite industry cannot pay higher wages without a further increase in the price of the coal," he asserted. Such an assertion is based upon the ignorance of present returns earned by the great anthracite companies.

WIFE OF MILLIONAIRE CLUBMAN FOUND DROWNED IN LAKE

Mrs. Daniel M. Bedell Identified by Note in Husband's Pockets

NEW YORK, July 7.—The body of a well-dressed woman, in whose vanishing the death of a millionaire clubman was being sought, was found today in the lake in Central Park. The medical examiner estimated that she had been in the water since 2 a. m. The woman was about 50 years old.

'Babe' Ruth's Strength Comes to His Aid In Auto Wreck

Home-Run Slugger Lifts Car Off Himself and Companions—Hurt in Knee.

By the Associated Press.

PHILADELPHIA, July 7.—"Babe" Ruth, champion home-run hitter of the New York American League baseball team, was slightly injured in an automobile accident near Wawa, Pa., early today.

The New York team played in Washington yesterday, and Ruth, his wife and three other New York players were motoring to New York. Their car, after they took a train for New York, the Ruth car was badly smashed. It was hauled to a garage in Media, Pa. "Sell it for what you can get for it," Ruth told the proprietor, "I'm through with it."

Mrs. Ruth told Mrs. Coates Coleman that he had turned out in the road to make way for a car approaching rapidly and his car went into a ditch. It overturned and the occupants were pinned underneath. Ruth, by a Herculean effort, tipped the car sufficiently to permit his wife and the three ballplayers to escape. Then, in turn, lifted the car so that Ruth was able to escape.

Mrs. Coleman said Ruth was quickly hurt about the knee and limped as he walked to the car that took his party to Philadelphia.

SEAMEN AND SHIPOWNERS CLASH OVER 48-HOUR WEEK

Amendment Presented Providing That It Apply Only When Vessels Are in Port.

By the Associated Press.

GENOA, July 7.—Representatives of the seamen and ship owners clashed at today's session of the international seamen's conference when Cuthbert Law, representing British ship owners, presented an amendment providing that the eight-hour day and 48-hour week should be applied only when vessels are in port.

Law said: "The 48-hour week would mean the destruction of the merchant marine, which is the greatest asset of the British empire, and raise thereon the black flag of discontent."

A representative of the British seamen, MacVey, retorted by asserting that the shipowners had been the greatest exploiters and had gained millions during the war.

NERVE OF STENOGRAPHER FOELS SEVEN BANK ROBBERS

Despite Drawn Revolver, New York Girl, 17, Calls Police on Telephone.

NEW YORK, July 7.—Quick teamwork by employees foiled an attempt by seven robbers in an automobile to hold up the Corona, Queens County, Branch Bank of the Manhattan Co. today. More than $50,000 in cash was left behind when the robbers became panic-stricken and fled, as a 17-year-old stenographer called the police on the telephone.

Five of the men entered the bank with drawn revolvers and commanded, "hands up." Two stayed outside as lookouts.

Assistant Cashier Fred Affhouse, disregarding the pistols leveled at him, hurled a heavy sponge bowl through the glass of his "cage," and Miss Dora Stadler dropped to her hand and knees, and crawled to a telephone. When she got the police station on the wire, she stood up and shouted:

PREMIER DELIVERS ULTIMATUM TO GERMANS AT SPA

Lloyd George Declares Belief That Germans Do Not Intend to Carry Out Terms of Treaty.

DISARMAMENT PLAN TO BE PRESENTED

Berlin Diplomats Insist That Reduction of Forces to 100,000 Men Would Leave Country in Chaos.

By the Associated Press.

SPA, Belgium, July 7.—Decision was reached by members of the German Ministry and military officers attached to the German delegation here this morning to recommend to Constantin Fehrenbach, head of the German delegation, that a plan of disarmament for Germany be presented the allied representatives this afternoon. The conference, therefore, will continue.

The question is upon the immediate reduction of the German army from 300,000 to 100,000 men and the surrender of upwards of 1,500,000 rifles in the hands of the people, as well as other arms.

Premier Lloyd George, speaking for the allied Governments at yesterday's session, presented what may be called an ultimatum, but which Dr. Simons, the German Foreign Minister, termed "a very positive demand."

The most dramatic moment of the session was when Premier Lloyd George said: "I do not believe that the Germans intend to execute the treaty."

The German Foreign Minister immediately interrupted, saying: "You have no right to make any such remark. We are trying to execute the treaty."

Other Clauses Taken Up.

The question of execution of the military, naval and aerial clauses of the Versailles treaty was taken up immediately after the formal meeting opened at 4:30 p. m. yesterday.

Minister of Defense Gessler explained the German situation in support of the contention of the German Government that it must have an armed force of 200,000 men to maintain order in the republic. He said there was little difference between the force was labeled army or police, provided the men were controlled by the Central Government.

Herr Gessler insisted that the allied plan for 150,000 police, broken up into small bodies under local control and without co-ordination, was insufficient to deal with the present situation in Germany, which, he said, resembled somewhat that existing after the Thirty Years' War. Armed bands were pillaging and killing, they were armed not only with ordinary weapons, but with machine guns, he said.

Troops Needed for Policing.

These bands continued the Minister were so formidable that they could only be dealt with by considerable forces.

The bands, said Herr Gessler, are centrally organized and directed, which he assumed the French, British and German were to maintain, and if Germany were to maintain 100,000 men, it was possible that many of them would enter the pay of the Bolsheviks.

15 DELEGATES FROM MISSOURI GOT $12,000 OF LOWDEN MONEY

List of Additional Recipients of Lowden Money Given by Babler

MISSOURIANS who received Lowden campaign money, and whose names had not been disclosed in that connection until National Committeeman Babler submitted them to the Senate committee at Chicago today, follow:

GOLTRA TO BE SUMMONED IN FUND INQUIRY

Missouri National Committeeman to Be Asked if Palmer Money Was Used to Pay Delegates' Way to San Francisco.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CHICAGO, July 7.—Democratic National Committeeman Edward F. Goltra of Missouri and Joseph T. Davis of St. Louis, who handled arrangements for the Missouri special to the Democratic national convention at San Francisco, are to be summoned before the Senate committee investigating campaign funds.

Subpoenas for them were issued by the committee here today and have been sent to St. Louis for service. The committee did not know that Davis and Goltra are not back from the convention, but will hear them as soon as they can get here. They are to be asked if Palmer money was used to pay expenses of delegates to the national convention.

ROOSEVELT NAMED TO RUN WITH COX, DELEGATES DEPART

Leaders Appear to Be Elated Over Spirit of Harmony Marking Last Hours of Convention as They Leave

ALL STATES JOIN IN LAST DEMONSTRATION

Display of Noisy Enthusiasm Continues to the End When Nomination for Vice President Is Made by Acclamation.

By the Associated Press. SAN FRANCISCO, July 7.—Delegates to the Democratic national convention, their work done and the big gathering adjourned in a last hour of enthusiasm for the party standard-bearer—Gov. James M. Cox of Ohio and Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York—are scrambling today for train accommodations homeward.

Every strain of departing sleepers heading east, north or south, is loaded to capacity, and men who will play important roles in the fight for election of the ticket are hurrying away to delayed vacations and on sight-seeing tours in the West preparatory to the struggle ahead.

Roosevelt is due to leave during the day for Dayton, O., to consult with Gov. Cox, where preliminary plans for the campaign will be mapped out, subject to amendment later, when the party machinery is organized and the advisers selected. The Associated Press reports that Roosevelt is expected to resign from the Navy Department as soon as he can clear up his desk, and will spend 10 days or so in Washington for that purpose before shaping his plans for the campaign.

Leaders Are Elated. Democratic leaders were elated over the spirit of harmony which marked the last hours of the convention. There has been good feeling and tolerance shown throughout the long struggle to reach a presidential nomination, it was said, but in the nomination of Roosevelt by acclamation, following withdrawal of all other candidates, the leaders saw evidence of differences buried, and a determination to work hard for victory in the election, from which they draw great satisfaction.

Rivals an Earlier Scene. In a way the scene yesterday, when Roosevelt was nominated, rivaled that of the breakup early in the morning of the McAdoo-Cox deadlock and the nomination of Gov. Cox.

Emotional speeches were again the order of the day when the convention assembled at noon. Half a dozen candidates were put forward and there was evidence that a strong movement was on to name a man from the West. The speakers appealed for recognition of the West's share in Mr. Wilson's second election.

Before that, however, a final demonstration had followed the reading of a telegram from Gov. Cox by Chairman Robinson, thanking the convention for its expression of faith in him.

For the last time the delegates ripped up the state standards, many of them showing scars of scimitars that were fought around them during the last hours of the convention. A few of the standards were now about starting, Nebraska's standard being held out, but finally it was grabbed by a delegate and the parade through the hall.

Something in the Wind. In order restored, nomination of vice presidential candidates went ahead, while on the floor a flurry of activity among the delegation leaders showed that something was in the wind. It centered about the New York delegation where Roosevelt's big figure had loomed up early but was now noticeably missing.

Vice-Presidential Nominee Chosen by Democratic National Convention

FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT

COX PLANS INTENSIVE SPEAKING CAMPAIGN OVER WHOLE COUNTRY

Running mate, in Dayton about Saturday. "Cox and Roosevelt, that's catchy, isn't it?" commented the Governor as he first learned, last yesterday, who his associate on the ticket would be from the Associated Press in his home, "Trails End," near Dayton. The Governor had left his newspaper office in the city before the vice presidential nomination was made, and his office had forgotten to telephone him the result.

Gov. Cox was sitting in a reclining chair in his library, enjoying his pipe and chatting with some newspaper representatives, when informed of Roosevelt's nomination. He appeared well pleased with the selection made by the convention and at once dictated to the newspaper men a congratulatory telegram, which he sent to Roosevelt. Also one sent to his campaign manager, E. H. Moore.

The Governor admitted that he was not intimately acquainted with Roosevelt, but declared him to be a "vigorous, upstanding, courageous and progressive Democrat."

Mr. Roosevelt's speech before the National Committee in Chicago last winter made a very strong impression, said the Governor. "He spoke in Dayton last winter on Americanization and his address was very favorably commented upon all over the country. His service at Washington has given him a wide experience and acquaintance."

First Address of Cox. Motoring 25 miles last night from Dayton, Gov. Cox made his first public address after his nomination to home folks at Middletown, O., whom he credited with being responsible for his entry into public life culminating in his selection as the standard bearer of the party.

The Governor in his youthful days was a newsboy, printer's devil, school teacher and reporter in Middletown.

Arriving in company with Mrs. Cox and Mrs. John Root, Miss Eleanor West and Perry Shepard, all of Chicago, the Governor found a platform erected in the public square and a crowd of several thousand people awaiting him. As he ascended to the platform the crowd started a great ovation. It was soon cut short, however, as the weather man at that instant let go a torrent which sent the crowd to cover and the Governor with them.

DEMOCRATS TO MAKE THE EAST THE BATTLEGROUND

Roosevelt's Nomination Is Strategy to Carry New York and Compromise With McAdoo Element.

By the Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 7.—In choosing Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York, Assistant Secretary of the Navy, as candidate for Vice President, the Democratic National Convention took cognizance of the campaign strategy that flows inevitably from the nomination of Gov. James M. Cox as head of the ticket.

This strategy makes the East, with its large blocks of electoral votes, the principal battleground. Hopes of the party managers for success lie in a appeal that Cox is expected to make in New York, New Jersey and a part of New England, as well as in Ohio, Kentucky, Illinois and Indiana. The South, of course, is looked for its usual solid vote.

Roosevelt was added to the ticket at the request of Charles F. Murphy of Tammany Hall, who pointed out that he was needed to help carry New York. Roosevelt is not a Tammany man. He fought Tammany in the Rules Committee here, and smashed the unit rule in so far as it related to New York, with the result that 26 of New York's votes were released to McAdoo. His non-identification with Tammany increased rather than diminished his desirability in the eyes of Murphy as a vice presidential candidate.

Moreover, Murphy wanted to eliminate Roosevelt from the senatorial race in New York.

Gives "Administration Tone." Roosevelt's selection, in addition to the more practical considerations, adds administration "tone" to the ticket, and represents a concession to the defeated McAdoo element in the convention.

Roosevelt is popular. He is an outstanding figure of a man, young and vigorous. Like many of the others identified with the McAdoo movement, he is of the crusading type. He was an active factor in the direction of the navy during the war.

The selection of Roosevelt by acclamation, after all other candidates had been rejected, was the result of a convention that witnessed the apparent paradox of a Wilson victory on the platform and the defeat of the President's son-in-law for the presidential nomination.

Paradox on Surface Only. These two major results are paradoxical on the surface merely. Wilson kept hands off the nomination. The fight for McAdoo, though heralded by opposition as an administration fight, was not so in reality. Palmer has as much right as anybody to claim that he carried the administration colors. And the forces of Cox, led on by the one who was a staunch adherent of Wilson, Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi, the leaders of the McAdoo campaign, it is true, were largely Federalists.

Visits Mother's Grave. The Governor visited the grave of his mother. She died at the age of 85, several years ago, after living to see him inaugurated Governor for a first term. After that he went to Middletown for his address to friends and neighbors of youthful days when he was newsboy, printer's devil, school teacher and reporter there.

Plans are being made by the Dayton Chamber of Commerce for a pilgrimage in Dayton at a later date, probably July 15.

In his talk to his newspaper employees, Gov. Cox said: "The greatest gift that the Almighty God can give to any man in public life is to permit him to come into the world under circumstances which enable him to know the life status of the man who works. Devotion was good to me. It was my high privilege to come through the ranks. I know the torment of the boy who is without funds, and I know his anxiety as to how he will achieve his ambitions. If nomination means election, I will take to the White House this best equipment for a man in public life—experience in the ranks with those who toil."

One elderly Dayton woman, Mrs. D. Mickey, climbed the steps to the Governor's office in his newspaper building to leave him a rubber horsehoe for luck.

San Francisco Far Exceeded Expectations, Homer Cummings Says

By the Associated Press.

CHAIRMAN HOMER S. CUMMINGS of the Democratic National Committee said after the convention was over: "San Francisco redeemed every promise that was made in her behalf and in many respects far exceeded our expectations. There were some who doubted the wisdom of holding a national convention on the Pacific Coast. 'Whom' experience, however, has removed all doubt."

There was never at any time, however, a threat of either men or women, though Bryan issued a statement that his "heart was in the grave."

It was an open fight. There were leaders of the cause, controlling blocks of delegates, and the usual dickerings went on among them. In the main, the delegates voted their convictions without coercion.

No "big boss" pulled the strings. It was generally reckoned with approval by some that the women were introducing a new leaven of independent action in political conventions.

The battle between Cox and McAdoo has been described as a conflict of conservative and progressive forces, but that statement, too, like any other generalization about the convention, needs to be qualified. Cox, indeed, have with him some of the practical old-line political leaders, which is one of the reasons why he won. Cox, however, is not a reactionary, but a man of genuine progressive ideas. He has given Ohio a progressive administration. His candidacy, it is believed, has the approval of labor. It was not purely a conservative support, but each was composed of a variety of elements.

GOLTRA TO BE SUMMONED IN FUND INQUIRY

Mr. Whelan $250,000, Mr. William Cooper Procter $250,000, and I agreed to get the rest." Loeb declared $400,000 passed through his hands, but said the men who gave him the money had secured it from someone else.

Gen. Wood, he testified, was present at the opening of this meeting, but not when the money was withdrawn.

J. B. Duke Contributor. J. B. Duke was one contributor to the $1,000,000. Loeb said. George W. Perkins gave him $10,000 and H. H. Rogers of the Standard Oil Co. $5,000. He said he associated these men might have obtained the money from others.

Loeb presented check books showing the amounts he received. Senator Reed questioned him concerning an item of "five cashiers' checks, $25,000."

Loeb said he mailed such checks under orders from former Postmaster-General Hitchcock. One check went to John, one to Georgia, one to Col. Smith, one to a Republican national committeeman in the District of Columbia and one to Maryland. They were for $5000 each, he said.

Not Unusual in Politics. These checks were put in envelopes without letters and mailed, the witness said. When Senator Reed asked if this was not an unusual way to send money, Loeb replied: "Not in politics." Tracing the history of the Wood campaign, Loeb said Wood consulted him as early as February, 1919, and that he acted as advisor to Plattsbury men boosting the General.

MAN WHO SAYS HE KILLED WIFE'S SLAYER IS ARRESTED

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, July 7.—Lieut. Carl Wanderer, whose wife was killed in the vestibule of their apartment building several weeks ago, presumably by a man whom Wanderer killed in a pistol duel that followed, was arrested last night with his brother-in-law and cousin pending further investigation of the case.

Wanderer told police that the man he killed had slain Mrs. Wanderer after attacking them without provocation. Wanderer said he had then killed the man with his army pistol. A similar weapon was found beside the body of the dead man, who has never been identified.

Police traced the number of the pistol believed to belong to the dead man and found that Wanderer's brother-in-law was the original owner. The brother-in-law, John Hoffman, said he sold it to Fred Wanderer, a cousin of the Lieutenant.

Fred Wanderer, when arrested, told police they say, that Carl borrowed the pistol from him several days before the shooting.

Carl Wanderer was taken into custody and said, according to the police, that after killing the man he robbed two other men near the same spot. The same highwaymen are held responsible for numerous other holdups and shootings in the neighborhood.

Evidently Dalton made a hard fight against his assailants. He fired two shots at them before a bullet went through his heart.

Dalton was pitcher of the Sharon Hill baseball team. He was a member of the baseball team, and others formed a posse and are searching for the slayers.

"JIM WILL BE AS GOOD A PRESIDENT AS SON," FATHER SAYS

By the Associated Press.

GILBERT COX, who is 87, "Happiest and Proudest Man in United States."

CAMDEN, O., July 7.—Gilbert Cox, father of the Democratic presidential nominee, was sitting on the porch of his modest home yesterday when a representative of the Associated Press called.

"I am the happiest and proudest man in the United States tonight," he said, and then he said: "I am as good a President as my son."

Asked if he would go to Washington to witness the inauguration of his son, he said: "I don't know. I'd like to go one better than Mr. Harding, who said he would drive his chair in the parade, but I'm getting along in years now."

All day long a stream of neighbors and visitors poured into the Cox home congratulating the Governor's father and predicting the election of his son.

Mr. Cox is 87 years old.

DIVORCE GRANTED TO HOLM; WIFE'S CHARGES "NOT PROVED"

By the Associated Press.

Sculptor and Washington U. Instructor Alleged Indignities—Wife Contested Suit.

A divorce was granted today to Victor S. Holm, sculptor and instructor in the School of Fine Arts at Washington University.

The allegation was general indignities. His wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Baxter Holm, filed an answer and contested the suit. In granting the decree, Judge Davis said Mrs. Holm, in her answer, had made allegations against her husband and had failed to prove them.

The Holms were married May 15, 1900, and separated Oct. 2 last. They were then living at 6826 DeGuerre avenue. Holm in his petition alleged that Mrs. Holm falsely charged him with associating with other women and had made charges against him to the faculty of Washington University without adding proof.

His wife's attitude, he said, made it necessary for him to leave their home last October; and since then, on three different occasions, he had unsuccessfully attempted to obtain possession of his own papers and piano. He testified he had made ample provision for his wife and their 17-year-old son, but these efforts were not appreciated.

Mrs. Holm in her answer alleged her husband associated with other women and told her he did not love her. The case had been under advisement since May 5.

MISSOURI U. STUDENT KILLS SELF 3 DAYS AFTER WEDDING

By the Associated Press.

COLUMBIA, Mo., July 7.—L. B. Wilkes, 20 years old, a student and assistant instructor in the University of Missouri, who married Miss Josiah Carnon, also a student in the university, last Saturday night, killed himself with a shotgun yesterday afternoon at his father's home, six and a half miles east of here.

His father, the Rev. Edmund Wilkes, a retired minister, said he believed a temporary mental derangement due to overworking was responsible. Just before killing himself, Wilkes talked to his bride over the telephone and appeared to be the best of spirits, his father said.

COMMITTEE DROPS CHARGES AGAINST SCHOOL PRINCIPAL

Burns Agency Refuses to Make Known Who Hired Private Detective to "Shadow" Arden R. Morgan.

REAPPOINTMENT STILL BEING HELD UP

Dr. Withers Says He Will Wait Until 'Other Matters' Are Cleared Up—Heated Debate Marks Board Meeting.

Efforts by the Board of Education to learn who hired private detectives to "shadow" Arden R. Morgan, 3302 1/2 McGee avenue, whose reappointment as principal of the Sherman School, 2336 Flad avenue, is being held up by Superintendent of Instruction Withers, failed yesterday when Floyd B. Young, resident manager of the William J. Burns National Detective Agency, refused to disclose the identity of the agency's client.

The committee on instruction, of which Richard Murphy is chairman, after hearing Young's testimony, ordered the charges against Morgan, which were based on the reports of private detectives, dropped. The committee unanimously agreed that the charges were not worthy of further consideration.

Following the committee's meeting, at which every member of the board, with the exception of W. Frank Carter, was present, Supt. Withers announced that he would continue to hold up the reappointment of Morgan pending investigation of other matters concerning the principal. He refused to say what the "other matters" were.

Morgan, when asked if he contemplated any steps to bring about his reappointment, assumed an attitude of indifference. "I don't know whether I care to be reappointed now," he said. "Further than that I have nothing to say for the present."

Hearing Behind Closed Doors. The hearing, which was held behind closed doors and which lasted for two hours, was marked by lively discussion between Supt. Withers and members of the board, each taking a position. At the conclusion of the session, when some of the board members departed, Supt. Withers, Murphy and Frank X. Hemenz were in a corner of the room, heated debate. They frequently shook their fingers at each other, and when Supt. Withers observed newspaper reporters standing at the open door he pushed it shut with a bang.

"All I have to say is that Morgan has been vindicated," said Chairman Murphy, when he left the room. "I don't know what action will be taken regarding the principal's appointment. That is in the hands of the superintendent. He is supreme under the law, when it comes to making appointments in his department."

Resident of Sherman District. In response to a question, Young said that no one connected with the department of instruction had employed the agency to "shadow" Morgan. He was asked if anyone residing in the Sherman School district was responsible for having the work done. He inquired as to the boundaries of the district and when they were described he reflected a moment and then replied that the agency had been employed by a resident of the district. He refused to mention the client's name or occupation, and explained that he was acting in accordance with the law.

Hemenz rebuked the witness for withholding the information from the board of education. He said that Morgan was a public official and that the board was entitled to the information. Young said that he had no desire to shield anyone.

Morgan Demanded Hearing. It will be recalled that on June 8, when Morgan learned that his name had been included in the list of reappointments because charges had been made against him, he demanded a hearing. At a secret meeting of the board several weeks ago Supt. Withers explained that he had held up the appointment of Morgan because of reports he had received from the Burns agency.

Morgan denied the charges and produced his wife and several character witnesses, including Henry Heier, president of the Sherman School Patrons' Alliance. Mrs. Morgan said that she had absolute faith in her husband, and Heier said that the charges against the principal had been investigated by him and had not been substantiated. The board then decided to try to ascertain what had detained the detective agency.

BATHING SUITS SHOCK HART
By the Associated Press.
MONTELU, T. H., July 7.—Prof. Albert Bushnell Hart of Harvard, now on a visit to the islands, voiced criticism of bathing costumes worn at Waikiki beach at a recent Honolulu A. C. Club luncheon.

"Such scenes as you have at Waikiki would not be possible on the Atlantic Coast," said Prof. Hart, who added, "It is a question whether the women of our race, in this community of many racial angles, should not set a different example in this regard."

Kadiak Bear Cubs Captured by St. Louis Hunting Party in Alaska Arrive at Zoo

Animals Will Be in Hospital Several Days—Mrs. E. H. Steedman Tells of Shooting Bear.

THE two Kadiak bear cubs captured recently by a party of four St. Louis hunters in Alaska and brought back as a gift to the zoo, arrived in a crate by express yesterday and are now being cared for in the zoo hospital, which occupies the building in Forest Park that was used as a cement exhibit during the World's Fair. It will be several days before they will be placed where the public may see them.

The party which caught the cubs consisted of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin H. Steedman of 5394 Waterman avenue, Dr. Borden S. Veeder of the University Club, and Edward Mallinckrodt Jr. of 16 Westmoreland place.

Mrs. Steedman and Dr. Veeder returned Monday night and the party's adventures were related in an exclusive interview with Dr. Veeder in yesterday's Post-Dispatch. Steedman and Mallinckrodt will return in two or three weeks, having remained behind to take motion pictures of wild game.

Two Cubs Brought Back. Dr. Veeder shot the mother of the cubs, not knowing she had young. Then the cubs appeared and were didate for Congress in the Twelfth District, St. Louis, is listed for two checks for a total of $300; Joe J. Manlove of Joplin, twice a candidate for Congress in the Fifteenth District, and whose wife was an alternate from that district to Chicago, is listed at $300.

Former State Senator Holmes Hall of Sedalia is scheduled for two checks of $100 each. Others named are as follows: C. A. Hendrix, Stockton, $300; A. H. Doerman, Webster Groves, three checks for $20; Mark Peltis, Bray, $100; M. C. James, Higginsville, $100; H. C. Shively, Hamilton, $100; W. Hallen, Third District, $100; J. W. Durfee, Iberia, two payments for total of $400; Fred Wilson, Macon, $100; J. S. Miller, $50; C. M. LeBow, Kansas City, $31.87; E. E. Butler, as treasurer, Woman's Republican Club, $50.

Mrs. E. E. Butler, daughter of Hank Wecke, was a delegate from the Eleventh District to Chicago. She voted for Johnson.

Negroes Who Got Cash. Six St. Louis negroes handled portions of the Lowden "money," as follows: The Tabernacle Baptist Church; J. M. Well, who has said he "sounded out" Lowden sentiment among negroes in several states, and who got a total of $980 for expenses; A. W. Lloyd, grand chancellor of the negro Knights of Pythias in Missouri; J. E. Mitchell, editor of the Argus, a negro newspaper; W. H. Banks, a delegate from the Twelfth District, $125 and Dr. W. A. Venable, Lloyd, Banks and Mitchell went with Well on trips to "sound out" Lowden sentiment. Mitchell and Lloyd are mentioned by Babler's statement, which says that Well was accompanied by "others." Banks is one of the "others," according to Well. The Argus Publishing Co. also got $200.

All the amounts referred to so far were disbursed by check, Babler said, and the dates all are given. In addition, seven other items covering trips and entertainment extended by Babler, totaling $293, arrived at from memory, are in the statement, as follows: For Lincoln day banquet tickets, $113; six trips to Chicago for conferences, $350; five trips to Kansas City for conferences, including a meeting of the State Committee, the State convention, with entertainment extended at each, $650; trips to seven congressional district conventions, with entertainment, $420; trip to Pittsburg, $120; three trips to Springfield, Ill., $30; entertaining party workers from the state, including hotel and cafe bills, from November, 1919, through May, 1920, $1200.

Telephone and telegraph expense is listed at $820.52.

How Delegates Voted. Of the delegates listed by Babler as receiving Lowden money, the following voted for Lowden in the first ballot at Chicago: Brown, Allen, Delhart, Hedrick, Hartshorn, Elmer, Essen, voted for Lowden, also. Alternates for Goldstein and Moore voted for Harding, while Davis voted for Snodgrass and Franks voted for Wood.

Franks had virtually to pledge himself to vote for Wood before the shot one of eight large grizzlies killed by the party. "I only fired one shot at him," Mrs. Steedman said, "but that proved fatal, because it hit just below the ear. People won't believe that if you put it in the paper, but it is a fact. I used a regulation Springfield army rifle of perhaps .35 caliber, and so I was not a sportsman."

Tells of Shooting Bear. "Kadiak is a cold, mountainous treeless country. About 2 o'clock one afternoon, about a month ago, Mr. Steedman, a guide and I found bear tracks among the tundra and alder bushes and followed them. Three hours later, in a valley, at the foot of a mountain, we came upon this bear."

He was about 100 yards and he did not discover us. "It was my turn, so I shot him. The noise attracted another bear, evidently the mate of the male I killed, but this one ran away when he saw us. The one I killed measured nine feet from tip of nose to tip of tail, and stood over a yard high at the shoulders. The guides skinned him, and the skin will be shipped to St. Louis soon for a decoration for our home."

"The country was quite cold and an almost continuous stiff wind made shooting difficult."

Jasper County delegation to the Fifteenth District convention in May would support him for delegate to the national convention.

The "trip to Pittsburg" referred to by Babler in his statement, was made with Goldstein and Moore to meet Senator Selden P. Spencer. Babler testified when he appeared before the Senate investigating committee in June. Spencer is a member of the Senate Committee.

Babler Questioned by Reed. After William Loeb was excused, Babler was recalled and questioned by Senator Reed concerning conference expenses during the Lowden campaign.

Babler said he met Senator Spencer of Missouri in Pittsburg, Mo., and that he had given him $2500 Lowden delegates from Missouri, were present, he said, adding that the meeting was called at his request, because there was "a question as to whether Missouri should send four or eight delegates."

Senator Reed asked if the meeting had anything to do with money, to which the witness replied: "No." Senator Reed decided the meeting did not concern the committee and took up a new line of questioning, asking if Senator Spencer, a member of the committee, "knew anything about Babler getting money for the Lowden campaign." Babler said he thought not.

Babler said M. E. Rhodes of Potosi, Mo., was given $200 to feel out sentiment in his district to see if delegates opposed to Gen. Wood could be elected. "This was before I received any money for the Lowden campaign," he said. "It was my own personal money. Rhodes spent $30 and recently returned $170 to me."

Understanding With Moore. Senator Reed asked if Babler reimbursed himself for the money not spent from Lowden funds received later. "I had an understanding with Mr. E. L. Morse of Excelsior Springs, that I could spend my own money and be reimbursed later," Babler answered.

Senator Reed questioned the witness about items in the statement of expenditures he had presented earlier. T. F. Franks of Joplin, Mo., got $1000, Babler said, but did not know Franks' business or how the money was spent.

Asked About McJinney. Senator Reed asked if E. E. McJinney of Springfield, Mo., a candidate for Governor, knew that two $500 checks given him by Babler were Lowden money, or whether he thought they were to further his campaign for the governorship.

Babler said he did not know whether McJinney knew it was Lowden money, but that he was "intended to help Lowden's campaign."

"McJinney did not know that it was Lowden money, then?" asked Kenyon.

"I discussed the Lowden campaign with him," Babler answered. Senator Kenyon asked if Babler saw anything "out of the way in a member of the National Committee PARIS, Tex., July 7.—Paris is quiet today and danger of race strife, reports of which caused armed volunteers to patrol the streets last night after Irving and Herman Arthur, negroes, had been burned at the stake, appeared to have passed. The patrols have been withdrawn and conditions are apparently normal.

The negroes were accused of having killed J. H. Hodges and his son, William, whites, at the latter's farm near here last Friday.

Armed volunteers had patrolled the streets early today and there were reports that desultory firing had taken place in the outskirts of the town. Sheriff C. D. Clarkson and his two deputies were away in search of other negroes suspected of implication in the killing of the white men.

The Arthurs were captured near Valliant, Ok., Sunday night by a posse and brought to the jail here. At the time it was thought there would be no trouble. Last night, however, a crowd appeared suddenly, stormed the jail and took the prisoners to the fair grounds, where a stake and fuel had been prepared.

The affair was over in less than an hour and a half. According to officials, the Hodges were killed during a dispute over money alleged to be due them from the negro tenant.

County officials today were discussing a report from Idabel, Ok., quoting Sheriff Clarkson, who passed through there last night in search of suspects, that the men lynched may not have been guilty. According to R. E. Eubanks, County Attorney, however, the negroes while at the jail made circumstantial statements admitting the killings.

voting on contests when he had received most of the county vote.

"I don't think I voted on the contests," Babler replied. "I was otherwise occupied at the time."

Asked about $100 item for the Tabernacle Baptist Church in St. Louis, Babler said there had been some feeling against Lowden because of the East St. Louis (Ill.) race riots.

"This money was to ally that feeling then," asked Senator Reed. "I had talked with the colored members of the church," Babler said when Senator Reed interrupted.

"And you thought this $100 would add force to your argument. It was the persuasive force of greenbacks," "I wouldn't say that," the witness rejoined.

Church Returned $100. Babler said he was asked to contribute to the church and also at the same time discussed the campaign with the church members.

"The church members and the campaign help you wanted were intimately connected," Senator Reed asked.

"No, but one followed the other." The item was marked "Returned to L. E. Emerson" (the Lowden campaign manager), and Senator Reed commented he "supposed when the colored brethren found out it was political money they returned it."

"I suppose so," said Babler. Babler said Roscoe Patterson of Springfield, Mo., candidate for Congressman, may not have known that $1900 given him was to help Lowden.

Conversation With Patterson. "He may have thought it was for his own campaign, but I don't think so. I discussed the Lowden campaign with him." This item also was marked returned to Emerson.

Roy Davis of Columbia, Mo., was listed for $500, also "returned to L. E. Emerson." Davis is a professor in Stephens College, Babler said. He declared all money was spent "conscientiously and legitimately."

"Even that given the colored church boys and the college professor," Senator Reed asked. "Yes," Babler answered. "The money was under subpoena to appear here today before the Senate Committee. Among them were Goldstein, Moore, Babler and Morse."

Armed Guards Which Patrolled Town Last Night in Expectation of Racial Outbreak Are Withdrawn.

Senator Kenyon, chairman of the committee, said he did not remember the names of the others, but that they comprised all who, to the knowledge of the committee, had received more than $500. He said that so far as he knew, Mrs. Babler, wife of the National Committeeman, had not been summoned.

T. W. Hukriede of Warrenton, former chairman of the Republican State Committee, and a Republican nominee for Congress in opposition to Champ Clark, and C. A. Hayes of Marionville, secretary of the Cag Central Committee, are here.

Hukriede has a prepared statement comparing Lowden expenditures to those in the Taft and Roosevelt campaigns in Missouri, and seeking to show that Lowden spent less than was spent in the past campaigns.

Hukriede's statement shows $2550 received from Morse, of which $500 was returned June 28.—Thirty-four canceled checks cover the expenditure of the remaining $2050, all of which was for traveling expenses except $400, of which $300 went to John T. Moore at Ozark, Christian County, and $100 to William G. Kitchen of St. Louis, former secretary of the State Committee, for expense at a congressional convention

UNIVERSITY CITY SHOWS INCREASE OF 181 PER CENT

Census This Year Shows 6792, Compared With 2417 Ten Years Ago.

The population of University City, in St. Louis County, just west of the city limits, increased 181 per cent since 1910, according to official census figures given out at Washington today. Its population is now 6792, compared with 2417 in 1910, an increase of 4375.

University City was laid out as a subdivision in 1903 by E. G. Lewis, former publisher of the Woman's Magazine. Later it was incorporated and Lewis was its first Mayor. He served several terms in that office.

Recently there has been great building activity in University City. Many apartment houses have been erected in the section north of Delmar boulevard, between the city limits and Delmar Garden. There also has been much home building in the section north of Washington University and west of the Kirkwood-Ferguson electric line right of way.

BURGLARS BATTER DOWN FIRE DOORS TO GET ALCOHOL

Fourth Attempt to Rob Chemical Company Yields $2000 Worth.

A fourth attempt since Jan. 1 to steal alcohol from the Blanke-Baer Chemical Co., 1710 Morgan street, was successful last night. Burglars, who must have worked several hours, obtained five drums of alcohol valued at $2000.

Each time since Jan. 1 that the firm has received a shipment of alcohol, an attempt has been made to break into the place. Consequently precautions were taken to thwart the burglars. The first attempt was made by a party of five men who entered the building by a vacant lot. An alarm light was installed on the west wall, lighting brightly the vacant lot and the alley in the rear of the building, thus aiding the police to watch for burglars.

Last night's burglars broke through a door in the Allen-Pfeiffer Building to the fifth, where they battered down a fire door leading into the Blanke-Baer company. They descended to the fourth floor, where they emerged into Seventeenth street through the door by which they originally gained entrance.

The climax came, he said, when he invited Mrs. Kate Richards O'Hare to speak at central church tonight. Several of the factors opposed to him accused him of being a Socialist, and conveyed information of the proposed meeting to officers of the Wednesday Club, whose auditorium central church has been occupying.

The result was, Dr. Richmond said, that he was notified that the doors of the auditorium would not be open tonight. He said that in view of the

More than usual interest attaches to this pilgrimage of the Missourians to the scene of the recent convention which saw the hopes of Lowden blasted and those of Harding blossom, as friends of the Illinois Governor are said to be that his defeat was due in no small measure to exposures in Missouri.

CENTRAL CHURCH PASTOR RESIGNS AFTER QUARREL

Action of the Rev. G. C. Richmond Follows Encounter at Hotel With Member of Congregation.

Following an encounter with a member of his congregation in the library at Hotel Statler last night, Rev. George Chalmers Richmond resigned as pastor of Central Church, Taylor avenue and Westminster place.

The resignation will take effect Jan. 1, 1921, and the pastor's salary will continue until then, but he will preach no more sermons at the church. He will depart tomorrow for a speaking tour of the West, and when he returns to St. Louis in September, he will open an undenominational church in the neighborhood of Grand avenue and Olive street.

H. A. Borders of 3509 Harper street, son of W. E. Borders, who, according to Dr. Richmond, was asked to resign from Central Church several days ago, called last night at the Statler, where the preacher has been residing, and demanded an interview. Dr. Richmond called the house detective and Borders departed. Later Dr. Richmond sent his resignation to Albert Wiebe, clerk of the church.

On the other hand, H. A. Borders said that Dr. Richmond was requested to resign last Wednesday night at a meeting of the congregation, by a vote of 80 to 10.

"My visit to Dr. Richmond last night was brought about by a letter he sent to my father concerning my father's domestic affairs which I considered insulting," said Borders. "My father incurred the displeasure of Dr. Richmond because he refused to be dominated by the minister in matters pertaining to the Ladies' Auxiliary."

Tells of Exceptions to Sermons. Dr. Richmond said today to a Post-Dispatch reporter, that a certain conservative element of Central Church congregation, headed by Borders and Mrs. W. J. Williamson, widow of the founder of the church, 1709 Morgan street, were expressed by him in sermons. They leaned toward the Baptist doctrine, he said, although they were endeavoring to carry out the late Dr. Williamson's idea of a community, or nonsectarian church.

The climax came, he said, when he invited Mrs. Kate Richards O'Hare to speak at central church tonight. Several of the factors opposed to him accused him of being a Socialist, and conveyed information of the proposed meeting to officers of the Wednesday Club, whose auditorium central church has been occupying.

The result was, Dr. Richmond said, that he was notified that the doors of the auditorium would not be open tonight. He said that in view of the fact that Central Church's lease on the auditorium does not expire until Saturday, there may be a court action.

Mrs. O'Hare, as is known, recently was released from the Missouri penitentiary, where she was serving a Federal sentence for violation of the espionage act. Her sentence was commuted by the President.

Dr. Richmond came to St. Louis from New York City last April. He had been an Episcopal clergyman in Philadelphia, later going to the staff of Calvary Baptist Church in New York, making the change on account of his doctrinal views. In Philadelphia he got into several controversies with Bishops of the Episcopal Church.

ROOSEVELT CAME INTO PROMINENCE AS STATE SENATOR

Elected by New Yorkers on Platform Calling for "Uniform Apple Barrels" He Became One of Leaders.

By the Associated Press
POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., July 7.—The village of Hyde Park, birthplace and summer residence of Franklin D. Roosevelt, Assistant Secretary of the Navy and Democratic candidate for the vice presidency, received quietly, but with elation, the news that its favorite political son had been named as running mate to Gov. James M. Cox.

The Associated Press carried the first news of his nomination to Roosevelt's residence. Mrs. James Roosevelt, his mother, said she had heard nothing from her son, but expected that he would return to Washington before coming to the family home in Hyde Park, in order to clean up the business which has accumulated at his desk in the Navy Department during his absence at the convention.

Roosevelt first sprang into political prominence in 1910, when he was drafted by the Democrats of the Twenty-eighth New York State Senatorial District, consisting of the counties of Dutchess, Putnam and Columbia, in an effort to defeat Senator John F. Schlosser of Beacon, who was a candidate for re-election. Roosevelt was successful, rolling up a majority of 356 in the Democratic landslide which carried John A. Dix into the Governor's chair. One of the stories still told of Roosevelt's first campaign is that he corralled the farmer vote by running on a platform which advocated uniform apple barrels.

Was Re-elected in 1912.

Roosevelt was re-elected in 1912, but resigned his seat on March 17, 1913, to accept the appointment as Assistant Secretary of the Navy. His most famous exploit in the State Senate was his leadership of the insurgents who opposed the election of William F. Sheehan to the United States Senate. After three months' deadlock, James A. O'Gorman was elected with Roosevelt's concurrence.

Since appointment to the Navy Department, Roosevelt has spent most of his time in Washington, returning during the summer months and on holiday trips to visit his mother. He has never relinquished his deep interest in Hyde Park, however, and is still one of its foremost citizens and one of the leading parishioners of St. James' Episcopal Church, which the Roosevelt family attended for years. He is a frequent visitor in Poughkeepsie and active in county Democratic councils.

Related to Former President.

Roosevelt was born in Hyde Park, Jan. 30, 1852, the son of James and Sara A. Delano Roosevelt. He is a distant relative of the late Col. Theodore Roosevelt on his father's side, and of the Astor family through his mother. He attended the Groton school and was graduated from Harvard in 1904 and the Columbia Law School in 1907, being admitted to the New York bar in the same year. He practiced at first with Carter, Poyard & Milburn of New York, and then became a member of the firm of Marvin, Hooker & Roosevelt.

Roosevelt married Anna Eleanor Roosevelt, niece of the late Col. Roosevelt and daughter of Eliot Roosevelt, March 17, 1905. They have five children. Roosevelt divides his time when at home between his family, his interest in local affairs and tennis, for which he displays his chief sporting enthusiasm. He is extremely democratic in his manner, and is popular throughout the county.

In New York Roosevelt is a member of the City, Harvard, Knickerbocker and Racquet and Tennis clubs, while he is affiliated with the Army and Navy, Metropolitan and University clubs of Washington.

CHILD'S DEATH AScribed TO BRONCHIAL PNEUMONIA

Coroner Not to Hold Inquest in Death of Child Thought to Have Had Tetanus.

A physician called by the family diagnosed the illness Tuesday of Edna Virginia Davison, 6 years old, 2750A South Fifty-ninth street, as tetanus resulting from a small burn suffered on July 4 when she touched a match to a "sister." She died at the St. Louis Children's Hospital yesterday, but physicians there gave the cause of death as bronchial pneumonia. That assignment of cause led the Coroner today to reconsider intention to hold an autopsy. He accepted the cause as pneumonia.

$1500 Fire at Butler Bros.

Fire of undetermined origin on the seventh floor of Butler Brothers, Fifteenth and Olive streets, yesterday afternoon, damaged stock $1500, according to the company's estimate. Most of the damage was caused by water.

REVOLTS AGAINST MEXICAN GOVERNMENT ARE REPORTED

Rebellions Break Out at Several Points—Federal Troops on Way to Combat Them.

By the Associated Press
WASHINGTON, July 7.—Revolutionary movements in various parts of Mexico were reported in advices received at the State Department from American officials in that country. The movements apparently are unrelated and of minor importance, but are being carefully studied by department officers.

Consul Blocker at Piedra Negra, opposite Eagle Pass, telegraphed the department that Gen. Ricardo Gonzalez, a nephew of Gen. Pablo Gonzalez, with a force estimated at between 50 and 200 men, had revolted against the present Government, cutting the lines south of Monclova, Coahuila, on July 4.

Niegras last night with 200 soldiers to attack the revolting force. Advice from the American Consul at Tampico stated that it was officially acknowledged there that Gen. Carlos Osuna and Gen. Larrabee Azadir were in rebellion. Gen. Osuna is reported to be between Tampico and Monterey, and Gen. Agadir on the San Luis-Potosi line.

Gen. Porfirio Cordena, who was appointed military Governor of Coahuila by Gen. Gonzalez during the revolt at Mexico City and who was replaced by the Obregonista Governor, Gen. Luis Gonzalez, is reported to be under arrest at Piedra Negra.

City Manager Plan Adopted.
COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., July 7.—Colorado Springs adopted the city manager form of government, to become effective next April, voted $900,000 for paving and decided against an ordinance allowing moving-picture theaters to open on Sunday, at a special election held yesterday.

Fined for Disturbing Family Peace.
Otto Tockstein, 56 years old, of 1324 Shenandoah avenue, was fined $100 and costs in Police Court today on a charge of disturbing the peace of his wife and son, George. Tockstein, according to the son, came home at 2:30 a. m., Tuesday, intoxicated, used profanity and attacked the son with a knife. The fine was stayed and Tockstein put on probation.

THOMAS W. GARLAND 409-11-13 Broadway

More than 200 of these beautiful fresh, crisp Summertime Frocks (the majority have been in the house but a few days) taken right from our regular stocks and given reductions that should make this one of the biggest Dress sales of the season. The values are marvelous at...

These beautiful Organdies are shown in all the new, soft, summery shades. Dresses with fine lace trimmings on collars and cuffs; pretty vestees; large sashes and ribbons of contrasting colors. And there are models with narrow plaitings and ruffles; round and square collars; bouffant skirts with wide tucks and hems; tunics with insertions of lace. Even with this knowledge it is difficult to conceive the true beauty of these dainty Frocks. You really must see them to fully appreciate them.

With just four days of selling this week, we must do mighty big things to get six day's business in this short time. And this sale is one of the big things. The values, the assortments, the reductions and the savings—everything big but the sale price; and it is ridiculously small.

JOHNSON COMES OUT SQUARELY FOR HARDING

Says There Is No Other Choice for Those Who Believe in Safeguarding Americanism.

By the Associated Press.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 7.—Support of the Republican party "with a candidate standing four-square upon the platform" is the only choice left "those who believe in safeguarding, protecting and preserving our Americanism," Senator Hiram W. Johnson of California declared in a statement at his home here today.

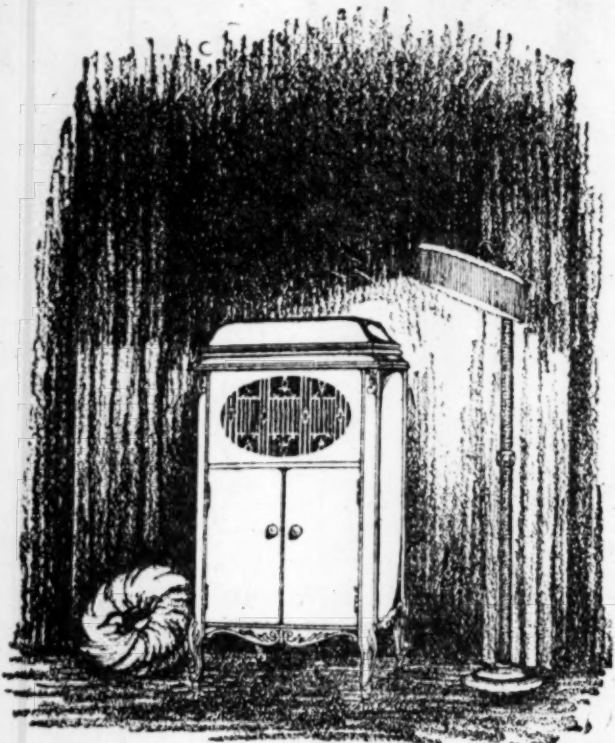

"For more than a year the contest over the President's League of Nations has been waged in Congress," Senator Johnson's statement said. "It has been the all-engrossing and paramount issue. Of necessity, this issue came to the conventions of the great political parties. Both Republicans and Democrats, in their platforms, have indulged in the usual political verbosity, but nevertheless, these platforms, in direct opposition to each other, sharply define and clearly present the question for decision in the November election.

"The Republican party stands firmly against the President's covenant as presented, denounces it as breeding war rather than promoting peace, and reaffirms the time honored, nation-old policies of Washington, Jefferson and Monroe.

"The Democratic party, on the other hand, rejected every effort to modify or qualify the President's proposed League of Nations, endorsed the President's attitude and took its position in favor of the league as presented. It is true that the Democrats, in effort to placate, say something about reservations which might make clearer or more specific the obligations of the United States, but the language is meaningless and does not at all alter the essential position of the Democratic party for the league as presented."

CITY DEMOCRATS BELIEVE COX CAN CARRY MISSOURI

Apathy That Marked Early Conduct of St. Louis and Kansas City Leaders Changes at Nomination.

RURAL DISTRICTS SAFELY DEMOCRATIC

Cox's Alleged Wetness Will Not Prevent "Regulars" From Supporting Him—Expect Dry Governor.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 7.—The consensus of opinion among organization Democrats of St. Louis and Kansas City who attended the national convention, as expressed in talks with the Post-Dispatch correspondent last night, is that the nomination of James M. Cox for President virtually assures the success of the Democratic ticket in Missouri in November. They expect it is possible to marshal to Cox's support, and thus to the State ticket, also, the various supposed dissatisfied elements within the party which threatened its defeat.

Out-in-the-State Democrats, who mostly are dry, are not so certain of the strength of the ticket, but Missouri is counted "safely Democratic" outside of St. Louis, and the city politicians take the view that party regularity will hold the full party vote in line in the rural districts, and that with the Democratic organizations in the cities working in usual form, there will be little question of Democratic success.

Whether or not the opinion held by the city leaders was due to an exaggerated idea of their own importance and influence, there is no doubt that they generally had a feeling of apathy prior to the nomination of Cox, and that many of them were disposed simply to mark time during the campaign, believing that the State would go Republican. After the nomination they perked up considerably and began talking about the majority which would be rolled up.

Dissatisfaction Sources. The dissatisfaction in the cities grew out of the failure of the Dunne-Walsh Irish mission in its desire to present to the peace conference the claims of the "Irish republic" for recognition following failure of arrangements for them to meet Lloyd George and out of the anti-League of Nations propaganda of Senator Reed and others, in which it was made to appear that the ratification of the treaty of peace with the League of Nations covenant would forever close the door of hope to the advocates of the independence of Ireland.

It so happens that the more active of the political leaders of both St. Louis and Kansas City are of Irish descent, and many of them had joined in the pro-administration, pro-Reed, anti-League of Nations campaign. It had become the stand, in some quarters, that whatever Wilson wanted must be opposed; whatever his critics wanted must be supported. It was in that spirit that they came to the national convention.

Running through the entire regrouping of political forces, the wet-and-dry issue—the demand from the city politicians that the platform contain a plank for amendments to the Volstead law and that the candidate be wet—has failed in the first, but believe they have won in the second, though no one has so far come forward with any proof of the wetness of Cox, except the inverted proof, which they accept as final, that, as the Anti-Saloon League refused to approve the Cox candidacy, therefore, he must be wet.

Administration's Supporters. Cox was opposed by the administration members of the Missouri delegation, particularly by the women, largely because they rallied to his support all the anti-administration elements in the convention, all the supporters of Senator Reed and the advocates of a wet plank in the platform, and because the Cox managers even made the fight for Reed before the Democratic National Committee.

Cox's position on the liquor question, as expressed by him recently to a Post-Dispatch correspondent, is that it is not a presidential issue, that all laws must be enforced, and that an executive officer who does not enforce the laws is more guilty than the actual violator of the laws. He took the position that it is a question for the people themselves to decide what they desire as to changes in their laws, but that as long as the laws continue they must be enforced.

Homeless They Expect to Win. It is difficult to see how the wets, whose real desire is that the sale of intoxicating liquors be permitted, even though they usually disguise the demand into an appeal for the sale of "beer and light wines," can get encouragement from the Cox nomination, but they do. They now say they can rally virtually the full support of Democratic leaders in the cities to him. Among these they include:

The advocates of amendments to the Volstead law.

The supporters of the campaign for Irish independence.

Autocar Proves Ideal Transportation Unit in Service of Scudders-Gale Grocer Company

The Scudders-Gale Grocer Company, established 1838, are the largest wholesale grocers west of the Mississippi River. They operate a number of branches within a radius of 200 miles of St. Louis.

Early in 1919 they bought their first Autocar. This Autocar consistently showed a surprisingly low operating cost per mile, and a speed of delivery beyond their anticipations. As a result of this record of actual performance in their service, they now operate a fleet of Autocars.

Their experience has shown that the Autocar is the ideal transportation unit for their line of business, because of its even load distribution, with the consequent use of the same size of tires all around.

WASHING WON'T RID HEAD OF DANDRUFF

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this tonight, and by morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get Liquid Arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.

ROBS CALOMEL OF NAUSEA AND DANGER

Medicinal Virtues Retained and Improved—Dangerous and Sickening Qualities Removed. New Tablet Called "Calotabs."

The latest triumph of modern pharmacy is a "de-nauseated" calomel tablet known to the drug trade as "Calotabs." Calomel, the most generally useful of all medicines, thus enters upon a wider field of popularity—purified and refined from those objectionable qualities which have heretofore limited its use.

In biliousness, constipation, headache and indigestion, and in a vast variety of liver, stomach and kidney troubles, Calotabs are the most successful remedy. But its use was often prevented on account of its sickening qualities. Now it is the safest and most pleasant of medicines to take. One tablet on the tongue at bedtime with a swallow of water, and the next morning you are feeling fine, with a clean liver, a purified system and a big appetite. Eat what you please. No danger.

Calotabs are sold only in original, sealed packages, price thirty-five cents. Your druggist is authorized to refund the price as a guarantee that you will be thoroughly delighted with Calotabs.

B. O. P. TO ATTACK DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM, NOT THE NOMINEE

Leaders From Midwest Gathering in Chicago to Discuss Campaign Plans.

CHICAGO, July 7.—Republican leaders from Middle Western States continued to arrive today to confer with Chairman Will H. Hays and other members of the Republican National Committee on campaign plans.

Before July 23, when Hays expects to attend the notification ceremonies at the home of Senator Harding, it is expected that leaders from most of the States west of the Alleghenies will come for conferences. Among those who arrived today were Harry M. Daugherty of Ohio, David Mulvane of Kansas; I. A. Caswell of Minnesota, and A. T. Hert of Kentucky. Gundar Olson, Republican State chairman of North Dakota, is expected in a few days. Hays declined to comment directly on the nomination of Gov. Cox. Instead he expressed satisfaction with the general situation and said that the Republican platform and the campaign plans would be directed at the Democratic platform and not the nominee.

Senators Sherman and McCormick of Illinois met with Hays but it was said the factional disputes in Illinois were not discussed, and that the National Committee would endeavor to keep out of the Missouri disputes which have centered around National Committeeman J. L. Babler.

$4,500,000 ROAD CONTRACT AWARDED AT RANGER, TEXAS

Largest on Record and Calls for 150 Miles of Hard-Surfaced Roads and 50 Miles Graded.

PHOENIX, Ariz., July 7.—What was said to be the largest single road construction contract ever awarded in the United States, exceeding by $500,000 the one recently awarded by Maricopa County, Arizona, was awarded in Texas to a local firm, according to word received here yesterday from Ranger, Texas.

The contract calls for construction of 150 miles of hard-surfaced roads and 50 miles of graded roads in Eastland County, under a bond issue of $4,500,000.

The anti-League of Nations element. The followers of Senator Reed. They say they really expect to get considerable Republican support from an element which considers Harding, the Republican nominee, as too conservative. In this they include Republicans who have been strongly supporting Senator Reed.

The party leaders profess to believe that Cox is the strongest candidate who could have been nominated, so far as Missouri is concerned, adding to the reasons enumerated above the claim that he will be satisfactory both to business men and to labor.

The only question raised by them touches the views rural Democrats will take of his nomination. It being conceded that out in the State the party is practically a unit for the League of Nations and in support of President Wilson.

In this connection they point out that, in the last presidential election, Missouri, outside of St. Louis, went Democratic by more than 35,000, and that the city went Republican by less than 10,000. Even though there should be dissatisfaction with Cox in the country, they say, the rural Democrats cannot find any reason for voting the Republican ticket, the nomination of Harding offering them no consolation on the points of objection they may find in Cox.

They also comment upon the fact that Franklin D. Roosevelt, the nominee for Vice President, is an out-and-out administration man, though they do not profess to believe that the nominee for the second place has much bearing on the situation.

Dry Candidate for Governor. They look more to the probability of the nomination of a dry candidate for Governor and possibly a dry candidate for United States Senator to add to the strength of the ticket as a whole out in the State.

This resume of the views of the Missouri delegation is gathered more from personal talks than from interviews for publication, the latter having little weight because of the proneness of politicians always to express complete satisfaction and belief in the success of a ticket of their party even if they have serious doubts of its success.

Really, the only uncertainty expressed by any of the politicians was in discussion of the probable position to be taken by Senator Reed. Until they read his speech made in Kansas City on his return from the convention, they were inclined to believe that he would not oppose the Democratic ticket, but now they are not nearly so certain, though several expressed the opinion that, if he should make a speaking tour of the State in opposition to the League of Nations, he would find many of his friends, who were for Cox, refusing longer to support him. The politicians cannot see any difference between opposing the Democratic ticket and opposing the League of Nations in a campaign year, the party platform being very pronouncedly for the league.

Gov. Gardner yesterday expressed the opinion that the Cox ticket would be strong in Missouri, particularly in the cities, and estimated that the State would go Democratic by from 25,000 to 30,000.

Relief When Convention Adjourns. There was a very good reason for relief yesterday when the convention adjourned. Frankly enjoying the California climate, and frankly appreciative of California hospitality, the Missouri delegation have had a long since Saturday to get started home. After adjournment most of them found that they could get no farther than Los Angeles before Saturday and nearly all of them had purchased return tickets by the Southern route. Railroads are somewhat congested and accommodations for travel before the end of the week are difficult to obtain.

Missouri had almost the last word in the convention, as it had almost the first. When the roll of states was being called for nominations for Vice President, P. Rosenberger of Montgomery City, announced that David R. Francis desired to release the Missouri delegation from the instructions of the Joplin convention which it had voted for him for the nomination.

Rosenberger, in a speech, said that Francis had not solicited the endorsement of the convention, that he never had sought an office, though he had been Mayor of St. Louis, Governor of Missouri, Secretary of the Interior in the Cleveland Cabinet, and Ambassador to Russia.

"He feels," Rosenberger said, "that he has been sufficiently honored by the Democracy of Missouri and the Democracy of the nation, and he instructs me to release the Missouri delegation from its instructions and to advise the delegates to vote for whomever they please."

Francis earlier in the day had stated to a Post-Dispatch correspondent that he would not permit his name to be presented to the convention, unless the Cox managers expressed a desire for him to have the nomination, which they failed to do. After all the candidates who had been placed in nomination had withdrawn, leaving the field to Franklin D. Roosevelt, Francis obtained recognition for a motion that Roosevelt be nominated by acclamation. That action marked the close of the important work of the convention.

No Sugar

Required in Jiffy-Jell Fruit Desserts

Sugar is scarce and high, yet now is the time for rich, fruity desserts.

The solution is Jiffy-Jell. Serve it alone with its real fruit flavors, or mix in fresh fruit if you wish.

Jiffy-Jell comes ready-sweetened. It comes acidulated with lemon or grape acid. Simply add boiling water, as per directions, and let cool. Then you have a fruit dessert rich in real-fruit essence.

Jiffy-Jell flavors are not artificial. They are condensed fruit juices in liquid form, in bottles. There's a vial in each package.

They are rich in fruit, for much ripe, fruit-juice is condensed to flavor each dessert.

Mix in fresh fruit if you wish, but Jiffy-Jell itself has fruit essence in abundance.

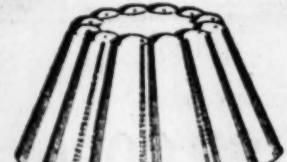

To make salad jelly, use lime-fruit flavor, tart and green.

Use mint for mint-jelly to be served with meats.

These are delicious summer desserts and the sugar is already there.

The Kensington Avenue Juvenile Players presented a play entitled "Fairies Court" last Friday evening at 5063 Kensington avenue for the benefit of the Post-Dispatch Pure Milk and Free Ice Fund. The play was written by Miss Aline Raines and the members of the cast were: Mary Katherine Sterr, Baby Robert Holsam Jr., Marion Hewitt, Louise Fayant, Anna Hahn, Virginia Asher, Elizabeth Barclay, Florence Alpert, Doris Elizabeth Raines, William Cherrick, Abe Shulman, Hall Kenney, Ruth Cherrick, Louise Regli, Ida Homm and Jane Bagol. Miss Marie Hamman designed and made the costumes for the sketch and assisted Miss Aline Raines in coaching the players. The net proceeds of the evening were $20.75.

A check for $9.25 was received through the mail with a note which said the amount was earned for the babies by five girls who conducted an entertainment. The girls are Virginia McDonald, Babette Troyman, Marjorie Capen, Alice Moore and Elsie Ford.

Helen and Beanie Lauman, Victoria and Helen Kinn, Lora and Winifred Herlinger and Marie Conley, all of whom reside in the 2500 block on Blaine avenue, gave a show which netted $5 for the babies.

Two girls managed a lemonade stand at Broadway and Angelica street which brought $7 into the Milk and Ice Fund. They were Mary Wallers and Helen Smith.

Joseph, Eugene and James Nolan of 4503 McPherson avenue earned

$2 by conducting a lemonade and soda stand at their home last week. Billy and Inez Woodward, 5255 Vermont avenue, earned $1 by their second sale of ice cream.

FORMER NAVY MAN MISSING IN OPEN BOAT IN THE PACIFIC

Lighthouses Along Coast Seeking
Traces of Helgar Torstensen,
Not Seen June 17.

By the Associated Press.
SAN FRANCISCO, July 7.—All lighthouses on the Pacific coast between Washington and San Francisco today were seeking traces of Helgar Torstensen, chief boatswain's mate, U. S. N., retired, who left his home in Bremerton, Wash., several weeks ago in a 22-foot open boat in an endeavor to reach San Francisco. Wireless messages requesting a lookout for Torstensen were dispatched by officials of the Twelfth Naval District on the appeal of Mrs. Anna Torstensen, his wife.

Torstensen was picked up June 17 by a life saving station at Aberdeen, Wash., his boat was leaking and making a losing fight against heavy seas. Following repairs to the craft, he started out again for San Francisco. Nothing has been heard of him since.

Summer Blouses

$10

Finest quality Georgette Crepe Blouses in a myriad of entrancing styles. Especially featured are handsome beaded front and back treatments.

White, flesh and all popular Summer colorings. Quite a few smart tie-on models.

The various Blouse Sales announced by this establishment in the past have brought forth generous response from the value-seeking women of St. Louis.

Yet here tomorrow is an event that merits more commendation than any that have gone before.

Because—the price reductions are so unusually drastic; because the variety is so immense; because there are four sale groups instead of one, which means that your outlay can be as large or small as you prefer.

Although these Blouses are not invariably shown in extra sizes, still many styles are in sizes up to 46, which permits large women to take advantage of the values.

Positively no Exchanges, Approvals or Returns will be permitted. Every sale must be final.

$9.00 to $12.50

BLUEBIRD ASSETS-STRIKE BALANCE WITH LIABILITIES

Report of Receivers Cuts $100,000 From Estimated Value of Raw Materials.

The three receivers of the Bluebird Manufacturing Co. yesterday afternoon filed a report on the apparent financial condition of the company as shown by its books and recommended the acceptance of a proposition made by the Davis Sewing Machine Co. of Dayton, O., to purchase the Bluebird company's assets.

In their report the receivers say that an audit of the company's books as of May 22 last shows balanced assets and liabilities amounting to $2,426,949.46.

The company listed its raw materials and supplies and completed washing machines as having a value of $888,863.96, but the receivers found that the actual appraisal value was about $100,000 lower.

The report shows that the company's notes receivable amount to $140,930.62, including $14,300 due from the appliance company on advances for advertising matter and $126,630.62 due from officials and stockholders of the company for stock sold to them and for money drawn in advance.

Another item listed as an asset is $450,835.66 owed to the manufacturing company by the appliance company. The receivers, in their report, say the collection of this money largely depends on whether assurances can be given to jobbers and dealers that the manufacturing company will continue in business.

In a recent statement, an official of the Davis Manufacturing Co. said that if the deal should go through he wanted W. S. Ireland, former president of the Bluebird company, to direct the washing machine end of the new company's business.

Train Robber's Aid Indicted.

By the Associated Press
CHICAGO, July 7.—Richard Smythe, 19 years old, of St. Joseph, Mo., was indicted today by the Federal grand jury charged with having in his possession money stolen from the United States mails. Smythe was a friend of Horace Walton, of St. Joseph, who was killed in a fight with Chicago policemen after he had looted the mail car of an Illinois Central train of nearly $80,000 several weeks ago. He gave some of the money to Smythe to help him get away before the fight with the police.

MEN ARRESTED WERE GOING TO SELL WATER TO SALOON KEEPER

Two Who Lead Policemen to Kegs in Garage Say Business Is Good One on Pacific Coast.

Leo Baldwin, 33 years old, and his brother, Ted, 22, both of Portland, Ore., are held for the Federal authorities pending further examination of eight 15-gallon kegs which were found yesterday in a garage which they had rented at 3317 Utah place.

Policemen drilled holes in the top of some of the kegs and found water. The Baldwin brothers say the kegs contain only water and they meant to sell them to St. Louis saloon keepers on the pretense that they contained whisky.

They were arrested near Spring avenue and Humphrey street yesterday afternoon when policemen noted the Oregon license tag on their machine. They took the policemen to the garage and showed them the kegs.

Leo Baldwin told the policemen that selling water to saloon keepers for whisky was a thriving occupation along the Pacific Coast and they thought it could be worked in St. Louis. He said they had approached eight saloon keepers without result.

BALLPLAYER'S WATCH STOLEN

Bert Shotton, outfielder and Sunday manager of the Cardinals, told the police yesterday that while he was on the coaching lines at Sportsman's Park Sunday, someone made a home run with his watch.

The watch, valued at $50, hung on a nail near the Cardinals' bench during the game. Shotton went to get it after the final out in the game and found that it was gone.

DEATH NOTICE

Mr. and Mrs. House Fly and family (of several thousand) were suddenly suffocated at the home of Mrs. Jones yesterday. Mrs. Jones came into her baby's play-room and was horrified to find the Flies in possession—the result of a hole in the screen. She rushed from the room and returned with a small box in her hand. She squeezed this box and a fine dust-like powder was seen to float in the air. Instantly members of the Fly family began to die. In a few minutes there wasn't a live Fly in the room.

WOMEN FOR M'ADOO THROUGHOUT DEADLOCK

"Went Down With the Ship and Men Went Up With the Schooner."

By MRS. W. W. MARTIN.
Delegate From the Fourteenth Missouri District.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 7.—I confess myself stunned yesterday by the nomination of Gov. Cox. The evident choice of both the country and the great sentiment of the convention was for Mr. McAdoo. Without organization, headquarters or finance committee, with not a single delegate pledged to his support, with no bargains to offer to any individual or delegation, he began the strongest candidate of the convention and his line held to the forty-second ballot, when some of the men of the convention grew weary and gave up. I am happy to say that with very few exceptions the women kept their courage and stood by McAdoo.

One woman remarked afterward: "Well, we women went down with the ship and the men went up with the schooner." Ohio says not so; that Gov. Cox is not only a dry man and a good man, but he is the strictest law enforcer Ohio has ever had for its Governor. If all the things that Ohio has to say about Gov. Cox are true, then a mistake has not been made. The burden of proof rests with Ohio.

What Women Hoped For.
Many of us had hoped that a man already so well known nationally would be nominated that no questions would have to be asked and no interpretations, no proofs required. We have witnessed the burden resting upon the women of the Republican party to introduce Senator Harding to the nation and we hoped we would not have a similar burden.

However, we have several advantages over the Republican situation. In the first place our platform is clear and positive. He who runs may read and understand it himself without explanation from anybody. It is forward-looking and courageous and the democracy means every word of it. In the second place our candidate is not a dark horse picked up from the small minority desire of the convention. He was at all times one of the three leading candidates.

I know the women of Missouri will want to know how it could happen.

When Mary Garrett Hay was asked after the Chicago convention why everything went against the wishes of the women she replied that the men did not mean to be cruel. They just didn't think about the women. Our Democratic men did think about us—they gave us our platform planks. They took counsel with us on all points in the convention.

We had a larger delegation in our convention by more than five to one than the Republican women did at Chicago. They made us equals in the National Committee and they are sincere absolutely in going into partnership with us. But with all this we were a minority at the convention and it is too much to expect that they could get our full viewpoint in so short a time, especially in those states in which there were no or few women in the delegation and in which no women had taken part in the State convention at home. These were the Cox states. They are utterly at a loss, these men, to see why we are disappointed and they will never understand in their political generation.

With Tennessee ratifying the Federal amendment in August, which will mark our full entry into the Democratic party all over the nation, men will begin their education in the complex subject of women's public views and desires. We are going to ask the independent women of the country to come into the Democratic party and work with us.

We think we are the party of progress and courage and liberal administration in which a woman of the hour will find herself at home and useful. We think our candidate bears very favorable comparison with the Republican candidate for President, and we ask that the independent women suspend judgment and study the question deliberately as we Democratic women ourselves will do. We're going to play absolutely fair in the campaign, and we are hopeful of a final verdict on our side of the question.

It would have been easy and immediate if we had had Mr. McAdoo as our leader. As Mrs. Funk says: "Give our women Mr. McAdoo and everyone of them would go into the campaign a crusader." But the party itself and the platform are worthy of a crusade, and in that spirit we will do our work.

ROOT'S PLAN ACCEPTED FOR INTERNATIONAL HIGH COURT

Jurists' Commission Will Make Some Changes in Tentative Proposals.

THE HAGUE, July 7.—One stumbling block in the creation of a high court of nations was passed yesterday when the jurists' commission voted to adopt in principle the Root-Phillimore plan for the make-up of the court. Though there probably will be a number of minor changes in the Anglo-Saxon plan, the jurists by a vote of 8 to 1 accepted Root's most important principle—his method for the election of the judges by the council and assembly of the League of Nations, voting separately on lists submitted by the league tribunal.

Those candidates named by both council and assembly will immediately be considered elected and, in event of conflicts in the conference committees, the council and assembly will try to come to some agreement. In such cases where there is failure to agree, the judges chosen by the two bodies jointly will have the power to name the other judges.

The jurists will now take up the Root-Phillimore plan paragraph by paragraph and decide upon the number of judges and their terms.

FINED $25 FOR SPEEDING TRUCK PAST STREET CAR

Chauffeur Was Arrested on Complaint of Man Riding on Platform of Car.

Frank Straut, 32 years old, 1436 Monroe street, a chauffeur, was fined $25 and costs in police court today for speeding, on complaint of John Feldwisch, 1668 North Commercial street.

Feldwisch, who was riding on the front platform of a street car several days ago, saw a truck driven by Straut pass the car at Chouteau avenue and Lombard street at about 40 miles an hour, he said. He took the license number and wrote to the police. Straut was arrested yesterday and admitted driving the truck.

SOUTHPAW MARRIAGES COMING: JUSTICE BREAKS RIGHT ARM

Justice Werremeyer of Clayton will be a "southpaw" in the matrimonial game for a while. When he got splicing marital knots in his justice shop he runs a bowling alley at 6225 Easton avenue, in Wellston. He has never yet fallen down and hurt himself while conducting a marriage service, but last night while bowling he lost his footing and broke his right wrist. A doctor set it up in the other alley.

With his right arm in a sling today he said he would continue to perform his near-judicial duties, and would marry all comers left-handed.

105-YEAR-OLD WOMAN DEAD; EXACT BIRTHDAY FORGOTTEN

Mrs. Susie Moore, Native of Indiana, Came to Missouri Ozarks When a Child.

Mrs. Susie Moore, who was 105 years old, died Monday at 10:30 p. m. at the home of her son, W. B. Moore, 60, of 4429 Wilcox avenue, of the infirmities of age. She had been unable to walk for 19 years.

Mrs. Moore was born in Blackstone, Ind., in 1814, the exact day being unknown to members of her family. She came to the Missouri Ozarks when a child and later went to Ozark, Ark., where she remained until 36 years ago, when she went to reside with a daughter in Newcastle, Tex. She came to St. Louis last August.

TWO MEN KILLED IN DUEL

By the Associated Press
SPARTANBURG, S. C., July 7.—In a pistol duel last night William P. Cooper, a blacksmith, and Oscar Godfrey, a horse trader, killed each other. Each man emptied the six chambers of his weapon and when the police arrived Cooper was dead and Godfrey, though dying, was still snapping his empty gun at the body of his antagonist.

WHISKY REMOVED BY BURGLARS IN FAMILY WASH BASKET

Liquor Taken in Absence of Occupants of House; Other Robberies Reported.

Burglars who ransacked the home of Price Shoemaker, 5243 Enright avenue, in the absence of the family Monday, used the family wash basket to carry away whisky valued at $600.

At the home of William H. Sherr, 5207 Vernon avenue, six quarts of whisky were stolen.

Burglars in the home of Edwin S. Gemp, 2146 South Grand avenue, in the absence of the family last night, stole 34 quarts of whisky, valued at about $300, from an attic on the third floor.

A key which Mrs. Sophia Brinkmeyer, 2323A Hickory street, hung on a nail outside her door when she left home yesterday, was used by burglars to open a door at the home of her downstairs neighbor, Mrs. Alice Brown, where they took jewelry valued at $100. They left the key on a table.

Other burglaries reported were at the meat market and grocery of Emanuel Peden, 5052 Maffitt avenue, where groceries valued at $50 were taken; the drug store of J. P. Muehling, 4500 Chouteau avenue, $25 in money and $100 worth of narcotics; meat market of George Bauer, 2901 Michigan avenue, $300 taken from a box alongside the cash register; the Morgan Express Co., 1919 Benton street, $300 in automobile tires, and the homes of Dorothy Cohen, 5935 Pershing avenue, jewelry valued at $300; Mrs. Bertha Brunning, 3049 Cass avenue, $47;

Arthur B. Reis, 144 Enright avenue, $200 in jewelry; Julius Mitten, 3916 Maffitt avenue, $100 in jewelry; Mrs. Amelia Voelker, 1861 South Tenth street, $100 in jewelry, and Mrs. Mary Limest, 4139 Oregon avenue, $9 and $100 in jewelry.

To Have Perfect Skin Throughout the Summer

This is the season when she who would have a lily-white complexion should turn her thoughts to mercurized wax, the first friend of the summer girl. Nothing so effectually overcomes the itching effects of sun, wind, dust and dirt. The wax literally absorbs the scorching, discolored, withered or coarsened skin, bringing forth a brand-new skin, clear, soft and irresistibly beautiful. It also un-clogs the pores, removing blackheads and creating the skin's breathing capacity.

An ounce of mercurized wax, abrasive at any drug store, applied nightly like cold cream, and washed off mornings, will gradually improve even the worst complexion. There is nothing better for the removal of tan, wrinkles of disfigurement.

Inside Men Should Drink More Milk

Heavy foods often leave one heavy, mentally. When no great physical exertion is required during business hours, milk drunk at lunch, as the principal food, has no bad after-effects, and the mind is clear and active for the day's problems.

St. Louis Dairy Company's Milk is rich in those body and mind building properties that make for robust health and vitality.

St. Louis Dairy Company's Milk is pure milk, because exacting sanitary precaution from the dairy to the table guarantees it. This is of unusual importance to those who carefully guard their health.

Drink more milk. All the family should cultivate the habit, because good milk is good for young and old alike.

POLES VIRTUALLY ORDERED TO MAKE PEACE WITH SOVIET

Premier Lloyd George Tells Delegates Not to Expect Any Support Whatever From Great Britain.

By LINCOLN EYRE.
Copyright, 1920, by Press Pub. Co. (The New York World.)
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch and New York World.

SPA, July 6.—Poland was virtually ordered this morning to make peace with Soviet Russia. Premier Lloyd George informed the Polish delegates that having embarked upon an adventure which he had condemned personally to Foreign Minister Patek a month ago, the Polish Government must bear the consequences so far as Great Britain is concerned. Although no formal decision has been taken in this matter by the Supreme Council there is no doubt that the other allied Powers will follow the British lead.

The Polish envoys called upon Premier Millerand of France early this morning and painted in somber colors the critical condition of the military situation affecting their country. They intimated that there was no possibility of bringing the Bolshevik advance to a halt except through the aid of allied intervention. The French Premier informed his visitors that he could take no action without consulting his associates of the conference and advised the delegation to visit Lloyd George.

Get Cold Reception.
They thereupon went immediately to the British headquarters and were received forthwith by the Prime Minister to whom they voiced the same appeal for help they had previously uttered to Premier Millerand. The British Premier's manner was extremely cold. He reminded the Poles that Britain had never countenanced the Polish drive into the Ukraine. With strong emphasis he affirmed Britain's refusal to provide the Polish army with any support whatever, either in men, money or munitions.

When the Poles pointed out the desperate character of the situation in which their army now found itself and asked what could be done Lloyd George replied with a grim smile: "one can always sue for peace."

After this somewhat painful interview Lloyd George met the French Premier and told him of his ultimatum to the Poles. Mr. Millerand, while obviously regretting the Allies' inability to aid their Polish proteges, acquiesced in the British viewpoint since any other policy on France's part would entail a dangerous split among the entente Governments.

British Pleased With News.
In British circles great satisfaction is expressed at this development. It is felt that the news of the British pacific advice to Poland will react favorably upon the Moscow Government and tend to convince Lenin of the wisdom of permitting Kraasin to bring to successful conclusion the negotiations temporarily interrupted.

Military experts here speak in the highest terms of the Red army's operations against the Polish forces that Boudenny's cavalry have twice succeeded in cutting through and penetrating many miles into the enemy's rear. This is considered a remarkable achievement from a purely military viewpoint. There is no doubt expressed by any of the officers attached to the various delegations that the soldiers can go as far as they like into Poland without adequate prevention by the tired Polish divisions.

Wash Shirt Waists This Way

Put In Tepid Water With Grandma's Powdered Soap

Squeeze In Suds

Rinse

Roll In Towel and Iron in 20 Minutes

One of the many thousand users of Grandma's Powdered Soap writes:

"I put two or three tablespoonfuls of Grandma's Powdered Soap into a tub part full of tepid water—soak my silk shirt waists for a few minutes—then squeeze gently in the foamy suds. Then I rinse through two waters—roll them in a towel and iron in about 20 minutes."

Success in washing is assured when you use Grandma's Powdered Soap. It is real economy in time and in amount of soap used.

A big, generous sized package for 5c.

Grandma's Powdered SOAP

You measure out Grandma with a spoon. A very little goes a long way. You get more for your money. So Grandma is the most economical soap you can use. It is good enough for your very finest things and cheap enough for all your things.

See how Grandma economizes your time also. Merely soak your clothes with Grandma—rinse them out—hang them up. No wasting time cutting up bar soap.

WOUNDS SELF SHOWING WIFE HOW TO SHOOT

Salesman in Critical Condition
After Getting Bullet in Breast at Home.

Frank E. Sutemeler, 37 years old, of 5524 Brighton avenue, a salesman, is in a critical condition today at St. John's Hospital from a bullet wound in his left breast just above the heart.

Sutemeler said that he shot himself accidentally yesterday when demonstrating the action of an automatic pistol to his wife, Penelope. He said that he had returned from a holiday outing on the Osage River and had brought the pistol home for the first time.

His wife corroborated the statement.

CROSSLEY QUILTS RACE FOR NOMINATION FOR GOVERNOR

Says He Fears He Could Not Win and Has No Money to Spend on Losing Venture.

JEFFERSON CITY, July 7.—Lieutenant-Governor Wallace Crossley today formally announced his withdrawal from the race for the Democratic nomination for Governor, as was predicted in the Post-Dispatch two weeks ago. Crossley frankly gave his reason for getting out of the race: he cannot win the nomination. His statement in part follows:

"In withdrawing from the contest for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, I desire to extend my sincerest thanks to those friends in every section and every county of the State who were giving me, or stood ready to give me, their loyal support. My reason for getting out of the race is because I feared I could not win the nomination and had no money to invest in what might prove a losing venture.

"There should be no talk among Democrats about this or that candidate not being able to win if nominated. Any one of the men whose names will appear on the primary ticket can be elected and I want my friends to know that I am retiring without favor or prejudice, so far as Democratic candidates for Governor are concerned. We can easily carry Missouri for Cox and Roosevelt, and elect every man on the State ticket."

THE MASCOT'S LUCK IS WORKING STILL

Mediocre Operetta Fortunately Enlists Excellent Singing and Animated Spirit.

By RICHARD L. STOKES.

ONE can sit down in a corner with a score of "The Mikado" and spend a jolly hour with Gilbert's delicious jingle and Sullivan's witty melodies. No such pastime is possible with Edmond Audran's "The Mascot." The reader finds music which overflows as gaily as sparkling Burgundy, but which proves on tasting to be mere grape juice and vichy; together with lyrics and text which prove beyond peradventure why the publisher of the score so carefully suppresses the name of the original French librettist. He was undoubtedly recruited in bedlam, and was furtively recruited to the straitjacket when his task was done.

There was occasion for surprise, therefore, that the opening performance, last night at the open-air theater in Forest Park, proved as likable as it did. Quite possibly "The Mascot" will become gently popular as the week goes on. It has not been given here in many years. Director Max Bendix shook up the musical concoction so vigorously that it seemed to acquire something of a tang; he was also kind enough to cut the vocal numbers from 33 to about 19. Even the overture fell before the blue pencil.

Mediocre Production. No other work this season has had so commonplace a production. The settings are disappointingly sedate after the splendors of "The Mikado." Stage Director Sinclair wisely turned the last two acts—the interior of a palace and the interior of an inn—into outdoor scenes, and introduced into the second act a handsome illuminated fountain. With these observations the scenery may be dismissed. The costumes are supposed to be those of Italian peasants and courtiers of the fifteenth century. But the local supply of Italian regalia seems to have been exhausted, for there were, in the chorus several Escamillos and Frasquitas who appeared to have wandered in on a visit from the pages of "Carmen," as well as numerous riding habits of the Victorian era.

As to the principals, Warren Proctor turned the burlesque Prince of Pisa into a romantic, knightly figure, contrary to the intentions of the story. Miss Pavloska had the part of a country wench, a keeper of turkeys, who is suddenly transformed into a Countess. The role of Bettina is that of an Audrey—less stupid and more hoydenish than Shakespeare's rustic lass—but still an Audrey. The prima donna turned the situation about; she seemed to have been from the first a Countess disguised as a turkey-keeper. Thus was lost all the comedy which might have been derived from the plight of a rural maid abruptly translated into court attire and manners. Bernard Ferguson, who in one incident appeared as "the great Saltarelle, Italy's first dancer," pirouetted about with all the wild abandon of a trolley post.

Comedians in Desperate Straits.

Raymond Crane and Harry Hermansen converted Prince Lorenzo and Farmer Rocco into a pair of knock-about comedians. The text for these two parts is the despair of actors; because of the idiocy of the original, they are compelled to rewrite their dialogue. After depleting Joe Miller's joke book, Crane and Hermansen were reduced to wailing straits in their struggle for laughs. "Your brother is fresh and rosy," Farmer Rocco was told. "He was always fresh with Rosy," retorted Hermansen. "Feed Bettina on muskmelon," Rocco counseled Lorenzo, "and then she can't elope."

We learned that poker was "the favorite court diversion in the principality of Piombino in the fifteenth century; and that even then the customary rebuttal of five aces was a six-shooter.

That, with all these handicaps, the work should have been not only tolerable but mildly entertaining, was due first to excellent singing in all of the parts and also to a brisk, vivacious spirit which animated all the participants—orchestra, chorus and principals. Ferguson, taking his first leading part here, sang his music most capably—particularly the "Saltarelle" air, which requires almost the excessive volubility of the factotum's largo from "The Barber."

Miss Pavloska's singing was, as always, of grand opera caliber. Miss Crossman had an inebriate solo about an "orang-ou-tang," which she did about as well as possible; more of her dancing would be welcome. Charles E. Gallagher might as well have a vacation this week, since his part of Sergeant Parafante takes only a few moments in the last act.

Women Wanted For Big Positions

Must Be Strong, Healthy and Energetic
The Kind of Women Nuxated Iron Helps Make

That there are hundreds of executive positions, commanding big salaries, open to the strong-nerved, healthy woman of today, is the opinion of Dr. John J. Van Horne, formerly Medical Inspector and Clinical Physician on the Board of Health of the City of New York. Dr. Van Horne says: "To be successful in business as well as in social life, women must keep their blood filled with strength-giving iron. Anemia—lack of iron in the blood—is far more prevalent among women than among men and as a result many a woman fails to grasp the big opportunities in the business world today simply because she does not back up her brains with the physical strength and tireless energy that come from plenty of iron in the blood. Healthy, red-blooded women are the ones whose minds are keenly alive to the good, the big, the great things of life for their bodies are fortified with the strength and vigor that enables them to forge ahead. It is these kind of women that can demand and hold positions of power—the kind of women Nuxated Iron helps to make. It is surprising how many people who do not get along in life are in reality suffering from iron deficiency and do not know it. To supply this lack of iron and help build stronger, healthier women, better able physically to meet the problems of everyday life, I believe physicians should, at every opportunity, prescribe organic iron—Nuxated Iron—for in my experience it is one of the best tonic and red blood builders known to medical science."

For Use at Your Country Place

MILTON is just "MIL-TON." No other word describes it. MILTON is a combined germicide, antiseptic, sterilizer, deodorizer, stain-remover, bleach, and more; yet does not burn, stain, poison or leave an odor. MILTON is just "MIL-TON." Get the Booklet with Each Bottle.

Does 101 Things
and really does them

MILTON is a wonderful aid in keeping dairies wholesome and sanitary. It is especially effective in the sterilization of milk cans, bottles, pails, separators and churns; removes stains from implements, tile work, floors and shelves; and destroys both bad smells and the dangerous germs in fly and other insect contaminations. The use of MILTON imparts no odor or taste whatever to milk or butter.

MILTON sprayed or sprinkled about kennels, rabbit hutches (1½ tablespoons to each quart of water) destroys vermin and thoroughly disinfects and deodorizes the premises. Two tablespoons of MILTON to the gallon of water, well soaked into manure piles and garbage, in accordance with directions in the booklet, prevents the breeding of flies.

SAFE

In all of its many uses

MILTON cannot injure human beings, animals or fowls. It is not poisonous, does not corrode tissue, cannot take fire or explode, yet will do even more efficiently all that many dangerous preparations do. MILTON has many uses in a country house besides those mentioned above.

CITY ASKED TO PURCHASE AND OPERATE MOTOR BUSES

Mayor Calls Meeting of Board of Public Service to Consider Proposal.

A proposal that the city buy and operate the 11 double-deck motor buses, which the Missouri Motorbus Co. operated between Sixth and Locust streets and Delmar boulevard and Hamilton avenue until last Saturday, was made today to the Board of Public Service by representatives of the Commonwealth Finance Corporation of New York, whose mortgage of approximately $160,000 on the buses resulted in the recent receivership for the company. It is desired also that the city purchase 10 additional buses which were being manufactured for the company in Dayton, O.

Mayor Kiel called a meeting of the Board of Public Service for 10 a. m. tomorrow to consider the proposal.

THREE MEN GET FIVE YEARS EACH FOR HIGHWAY ROBBERY

Two of the Trio Given Two Years Each for Attempted Holdup—Fourth Sent to Reformatory.

Three men were sentenced to five years each in the penitentiary when they pleaded guilty to charges of highway robbery today. Two received additional sentences of two years on a charge of attempted robbery, and a fourth was sentenced to two years in the State Reformatory at Booneville on the attempt charge. The three are Frank Kyle, 1459 Clinton street; Charles Bishop, 1216 South Tiffany avenue, and Harry Nauman, 1515 Mallinckrodt street. Kyle and Bishop received additional sentences, and Charles Tarantula, 19 years old, 6570 Lansdowne avenue, was sentenced to Booneville.

The three were charged with the holdup of Harry Winkler, 1219 North Ninth street, on April 23, when they are said to have taken a watch and chain valued at $50 from him. The attempted robbery alleged was that of Walter Nichols, 2015 Salisbury street, April 3.

Grain prices were irregular at the Merchants' Exchange today. July and September corn were higher at the finish, but December corn and oats futures were down. Sentiment did not incline to bullishness today and even the wide upward range in cash grain at primary markets exerted only fair influence on buying side.

Corn prices were mixed at the outset today, September being a fraction under and December a fraction over last night's close. On indications of higher cash grain prices buyers entered the market and prices swung upward moderately. Oats also firmed.

The weather map was not unfavorable. One trade paper said corn was doing well and that the winter wheat crop was made and that only a wet harvest was to be feared. A Chicago statistician was out with a bearish report covering Oklahoma, Kansas and Missouri. The same party says oats crop may be 1,400,000,000 bushels.

There were those who believe that the end of the present week will see a falling off in receipts.

Grain receipts today were 82,800 bushels of wheat, including 50 cars local and 19 through; 167,200 bushels of corn, including 92 cars local and 84 through; 174,000 bushels of oats, including 16 cars local and 31 through.

in practice is a good deal of a question. The answer,

WE hear a great deal of the sanctity of marriage, the sacredness of the mother; but when we consider the nobility of fatherhood, the wonderful privilege of One who would assume a human form and live beyond the obdurate fatherhood of nature, we are made to ask: As a matter of fact, are we men?

In the first place, we must recognize that we are not men, but creatures of God, created in His image and likeness, and that we are to be as He is, not as we are. We are to be like Him, not as He is, but as He would be if He were to become man.

PLAYING THE GAME By ELIZABETH JORDAN...

THE new young man had arrived at Lobster Cove on the late afternoon train, and all the eager guests at the Sunset Inn had yet seen of him was a well-fitting gray business suit and a smooth, slightly perspiring face, under a very good Panama hat. Also, he had tossed his suit case at the hotel porter with an accustomed air, and had crossed the veranda and passed its staring occupants with the firm step of one for whom that ordeal no longer held a nervous strain. The general impression of him was favorable.

Fifteen minutes later, in a retired corner of the hotel's big living room, three extremely pretty girls solemnly drew lots for him.

"You see," explained Elsie Lester, as she shook the folded slips in the crown of her straw hat at the beginning of this interesting ceremony; "you see, it's like this: If we all three made a dead set at him, we'd scare him to death, or, worse still, scare him away from the cove. But if one of us—a tactful one," she interjected warningly—"if one of us approaches him and gently leads him along the daisied path of friendship, she can arrange for the other two to meet him naturally. And let us hope," she added piously, "that she'll be decent enough to do it."

Her last word slipped out on a little gasp of triumph. While she talked she had drawn and unfolded her slip, which revealed on its fair surface a heavy black cross.

"I win," she added simply.

Her companions looked disappointed, then resigned.

"How are you going to begin?" asked one of them, affecting a languid air to conceal a vivid interest.

Elsie reflected for a moment.

"That's the easiest part of it," she said. "I'll have him put at our table. I'll let him eat his dinner in peace and then start a conversation if he cares to!"

"What if he doesn't care to?"

Anne Madden, Elsie's most intimate friend, asked the question without malice. "Sometimes they don't, you know—at first," she added, apologetically. "What if he doesn't?"

"O, I'll make him do it anyway," acknowledged Elsie lightly. "When a young, good looking, unattached man comes to a hotel where three girls have been living for three weeks among a lot of self-centered wives and mothers, and tired, fat, week-end husbands, he'll realize, if he has any humanity, that it's up to him to make himself agreeable to us. That's all we want, and it's mighty little to ask—especially as we're all prepared to be agreeable to him."

"Stand on a chair, dear," urged the third member of the group admiringly. "We can see you better there. And let us bring you a glass of water."

Abruptly and with a self-conscious blush, Miss Lester dropped her oratorical delivery.

"I've said all I've got to say," she muttered.

"And just for that, Mary Selden, I'm going to mention to the new man that you're a highbrow and a man hater!"

That evening at dinner and under cover of Frank interest in the food before her, Miss Lester studied the new young man. His name, she had learned from the hotel register, was Herbert Alton Smith. The Smith was a blow, but Miss Lester temporarily forgot it in observing with approval the very pleasant face of the stranger and the excellence of his table manners. He was not exactly handsome, but he had a good complexion, clear gray eyes and a mouth which, though over large, seemed admirably adapted to smiling. Just now, however, young Mr. Smith was serious—almost depressed—and he ate his dinner absently, as if his thoughts were elsewhere.

Miss Lester liked the shape of his head and the way his hair grew on his forehead. She did not like the fact that, after one long and somewhat breath-taking look at her he glanced past the side of her face as if unconscious of her existence. Hers was not a face that was often ignored. He finished his dinner before any of the others at the little table and, rising with a slight bow, he passed out onto the veranda. There he reclined languidly against a pillar and drew from his pocket that unfailing solace of the lonely man, a fat brown cigar.

The neighbor on Miss Lester's left grinned at her understandingly. He was a big, good-natured creature, with exactly three interests in life—his wife, the automobile business of which he was president, and what he was pleased to call "the study of human nature."

"Our new friend doesn't seem very sociable," he said. "But he's not cut out for a hermit. That mouth was made for grinning. Perhaps he's worried—up against something."

Miss Lester responded with the detached air of one who had given no thought to the subject of the conversation, but her spirits rose. If the new man was experiencing a carking care and not a basic indifference to life, she could, she felt sure, meet the problem presented. Nevertheless, after dinner, she passed it on to her faithful friends.

"He's got a grief," she mentioned lightly, indicating the victim, who still stood leaning against a veranda pillar and gazing into the night. He looked the part. His face seemed pale in the moonlight, and his teeth chewed nervously on the end of his big cigar. The girls were interested.

"What is it?" asked Mary.

"Heavens, I don't know. He didn't even look at me. But Mr. Brown thinks he's worried about something. I think so, too."

Mr. Herbert Alton Smith seemed to think so himself. A deep sigh broke from him. Then he muttered something under his breath, and finally, throwing away the cigar, he turned his back upon the beauty of the night and abruptly departed for his room. He did not reappear, though for several hours afterwards the sound of dance music in the ballroom and breaking waves upon the beach sought vainly to draw him forth.

At breakfast the next morning he seemed more cheerful and the irrepressible Mr. Brown succeeded in luring him into speech.

"New to the cove?" he asked cordially.

"Yes."

Mr. Smith's monosyllable was not overcordial, but he took the sting off this by adding a wide, tentative grin.

"Guess you'll like it," submitted the encouraged Brown. "Good golf, good fishing, good bathing. And," he added expansively, "several mighty pretty girls here."

The wide smile froze on Mr. Smith's bronzed face. He stiffened, nodded, and continued his features behind a hurriedly raised coffee cup. Then seizing a newspaper he had brought to the table, he lost himself in its contents. Mr. Brown stared at him in resentful astonishment, and turned to Miss Lester with uplifted brows.

"Well, what do you know about that?"

Elsie Lester looked at her friend with a water. When she saw that Mr. Brown was with a shocked expression, she turned to her mother who was already at the table, variation with the new young man.

He wore his widest and most ingratiating smile. He bolted the remainder of his coffee and turned to Miss Lester with uplifted brows.

"Well, what do you know about that?"

A HOUSE OR A HOME?

THERE is a vast difference between a house and a home, says the Thrift Magazine. The decorations and furnishings of a home are such intimate and personal matters the family should make their own decisions even when an able decorator is employed. A house may be ever so large and expensive, and the furniture and furnishings may have a small fortune tied up in them, and yet there is nothing homelike about the place. A lack of harmony, it is simply a stopping place for the family. One wants their home to look like a home and not like an auction room.

It is impossible to have a really charming room that is not harmonious. We do not mean that every color must match. Well chosen contrasts are really necessary. Too many people think they are poor, or in such moderate circumstances that it is no use for them to try to have things right. It costs no more to have a color scheme in mind, and what few things they do buy to have them carry out this idea. An old scratched-up piece of furniture, a worn rug, a couple of small paint brushes, and she is ready for business, despite the if C. L.

Often the only thing necessary to make one's home harmonious in effect is to discard a few pieces of furniture or bric-a-brac. We are always apt to overcrowd our rooms, and this detracts from the beauty and dignity of our homes.

It is not the grown-up folks alone that help to mold the character and life of the children in the home. The general atmosphere, the things they see, and live with, the pictures on the wall.

There was a widow living in an inland city. She had four sons. They all became sailors, and it was a great sorrow to the mother to have them all drift away so far. She had frequently said to her pastor she could not understand why it was her boys should all choose such a life. The pastor one day was calling at the home, and in the living room was a large picture, a water scene, great waves rolling, white capped; riding on the crest was an immense ship, a thing of power and beauty. The minister, pointing to the picture, said there it was the answer. Your boys have grown to love the sea through that picture. Too much thought and care cannot be spent on the interior of the home, not only from a money standpoint, but from an educational view.

An appetizing as well as nutritious sandwich filling is made of one cup grated cheese, half a cup nuts, finely chopped, and a mayonnaise dressing or just sufficient cream to moisten the mixture.

BURGESS BEDTIME STORIES

Old Man Coyote Postpones Dining.

By Thornton W. Burgess.

Don't win a battle 'till you've fought it, or eat a dinner 'till you've caught it. —Old Man Coyote.

TO postpone is to put over to another time. Old Man Coyote hadn't the least intention of postponing his dinner, but he did postpone it because—

Well, if the truth be known, he postponed it because he had to.

You remember how shrewdly he had guessed that if Peter Rabbit left his hiding place he would go up the bank of the Laughing Brook, and how artfully he had circled around and hidden to wait for Peter. Peter had done exactly as Old Man Coyote had thought he would. He had kept still just as long as he could and then he had started to stroll away at the bank of the Laughing Brook. Though Peter had uptied very carefully, Old Man Coyote's keen ears had caught faint sounds that had warned him of Peter's approach and he had begun to grin. When at last Peter hopped out from a clump of ferns just a few feet away and right in front of him Old Man Coyote was grinning so that he showed all his long, sharp teeth.

No wonder he grinned. Here was the nicest kind of a dinner actually hopping right into his mouth. Any way, that is how it seemed. Old Man Coyote saw the fear and horror that leaped into Peter's eyes as he discovered those two rows of grinning teeth just a few feet away.

Old Man Coyote chuckled to himself. "He'll dodge and run, but I'll have him in three jumps," thought he. "He is too badly scared to use his wits. It will be no work at all to catch him."

Just imagine how surprised Old Man Coyote was when, instead of dodging, Peter made a long jump straight towards him. Old Man Coyote blinked and his grin grew broader than ever. "He is so scared he doesn't know what he is doing. I look as if I will have to watch out that he doesn't jump right down my throat and choke me," thought Old Man Coyote.

Then as Peter again started to meet him, Old Man Coyote decided to make an end of those jaws and—wasn't between them. They jumped together on nothing at all. And then Old Man Coyote's paw came down on nothing. That is, they came down on nothing but the ground. Peter Rabbit had vanished. Yes, sir, Peter Rabbit had disappeared as completely as if some good fairy had suddenly made him invisible.

Of course nothing of this kind had happened. Such things never do happen outside of stories. Peter had disappeared, but the only fairy that had had anything to do with it were his own quick wits. Frightened as he was when he had discovered Old Man Coyote lying in wait for him, he had seen in the same instant a hole in the ground just a little in from the edge of the fern clump, and where he could hope to find safety.

Maxims of a Modern Maid

By Marguerite Moores Marshall.

THE chief hardship of toiled hair must be remembered not to tuck in all the loose ends and hairpins between the nape of one's neck and the beginning of one's hat.

When a man has hurt a woman's feelings he had so much "rather buy her a $5 box of candy than say he is sorry—of course, usually, he is NOT sorry!"

A college president deprecates the loss of woman's "aura of mystery," but every woman knows said "aura" never has been anything but a smoke screen thrown up to cover shallowness, selfishness and caprice.

What every woman wonders, just now, is whether a collection of sport skirts and silk sweaters, or a dozen organdie dresses, is more likely to "knock 'em cold" at the summer resorts.

Yes, Marie, most women are born sceptophants, but the fawning spaniel of the human species is any MAN whose employer is telling him a joke so old it's lost its hair.

Training Little Citizens

Fatherhood, a Profession

By Charles F. Powlison,
General Secretary National Child Welfare Association.

WE hear a great deal of the sanctity of motherhood and of the sacred responsibilities of the mother; but who talks about the nobility of fatherhood and the wonderful privilege of being a father? One would almost suppose that children had but one parent, or that, beyond the obligation of support, a father owed nothing to his children.

As a matter of fact, just what does he owe them?

In the first place he owes them the best possible inheritance of health and natural strength. If the fathers of the present generation had been taught, as school boys, that they could begeth a heritage of physical health, the present generation of children would be a far healthier, happier lot of youngsters.

And having given his children a healthy heritage, the father should share with the mother the oversight of their children's well-being. I know of no other father who does—hosts of fathers who not only fail to take any responsibility about the children's habits, but who actually, though unconsciously, work against the mother by giving surreptitious candy, by keeping the children up late to play with them and thus make her work with them more difficult. The result is that father is very popular, while mother is considered "awfully fussy."

On the mental side, a child, as he grows older, looks more and more to his father. Wise is the father who takes an active interest in current events or allies himself on the side of local civic improvement, for through his example his children naturally acquire a love of good citizenship.

And on the moral and religious side, how often is father a mere figure-head in his own family? Usually it is mother who represents the moral law, or, if father does take a hand, it is merely as the executor of her decreed punishment. "Wait till your father comes home!" is either an empty threat, or, in rarer cases, a phrase filled with terror for the small rebel.

Too often church attendance is left entirely to the women. The children see mother start off alone for church, while father remains at home to read his paper. The notion that church is a woman's affair is formed so naturally that, later in life, it seems an instinct.

How much children miss, by this one-sided parenthood! Happy the boy who looks up to his father as an ideal of bodily vigor, wisdom and goodness. And this does not mean that father should stand on a pedestal. Far from it. Anyone who has read the charming letters of Theodore Roosevelt to his children sees, as in a mirror, the picture of a father utterly devoted to his children, and utterly adored by them. Whether he is leaving from home to haymow in a wild game of tag, or reading aloud with his children gathered around him, he is always their chosen companion, their best friend, their greatest hero.

Anyone who has read the charming letters of Theodore Roosevelt to his children sees, as in a mirror, the picture of a father utterly devoted to his children, and utterly adored by them. Whether he is leaving from home to haymow in a wild game of tag, or reading aloud with his children gathered around him, he is always their chosen companion, their best friend, their greatest hero.

On the moral and religious side, how often is father a mere figure-head in his own family? Usually it is mother who represents the moral law, or, if father does take a hand, it is merely as the executor of her decreed punishment. "Wait till your father comes home!" is either an empty threat, or, in rarer cases, a phrase filled with terror for the small rebel.

Too often church attendance is left entirely to the women. The children see mother start off alone for church, while father remains at home to read his paper. The notion that church is a woman's affair is formed so naturally that, later in life, it seems an instinct.

How much children miss, by this one-sided parenthood! Happy the boy who looks up to his father as an ideal of bodily vigor, wisdom and goodness. And this does not mean that father should stand on a pedestal. Far from it. ## Paderewski, at 60, Retires; Quits Piano and Politics; Fortune Spent for Relief

SAD STATE OF POLISH PATRIOT

With Devoted Wife He Decides to Become Most Private of Private Citizens.

BY MARGUERITE DEAN

POOR Paderewski! From the wonderful, the wealthy, the worshiped artist, through the premiership of his native land, to a position of obscurity, with health, fortune, talent and hopes wrecked—that is the strange career of contrasts pursued by the greatest pianist of his generation and one of the few artists who also have held a political post of the highest distinction.

Dispatches from England, where Paderewski has just received an honorary degree at Oxford, tell us that America's one-time matinee idol of the chrysanthemum locks and Poland's one-time Premier and self-sacrificing patriot has given up both the piano and politics and, ill, and discouraged, is about to become the most private of private citizens.

Yet only 18 months ago Ignace Jan Paderewski was the idol of his fellow countrymen, the most prominently mentioned candidate for the presidency of Poland. He finally accepted the office of Premier and Foreign Minister, at the request of Gen. Pilsudski—the man with whom he now disagrees so drastically on matters of state policy that he has determined on political retirement.

That Paderewski no one has ever offered a more complete proof of the platitude about the ingratitude of republics. His fortune of at least $1,000,000, his health, his artistic genius he has sacrificed on the altar of patriotism.

Before the war the average American thought of Paderewski, the Napoleon of the piano, as a man with a haircut like a toy Pomeranian's, a man whom emotional and osculatory ladies tried to mob at afternoon recitals, a recipient of bushels of ardent notes from uninitiated admirers, a person who insured his hands for $50,000, a lucky dog who annually sailed away from the dear American with a small fortune. In one year he received $180,000 for 67 American recitals. And his salary as Polish Premier was equivalent to about $50 a month!

Paderewski, however, was always a good Pole and ardently devoted to the cause of Polish freedom.

When the United States declared war on Germany he started at once to obtain the approval of the War Department for this plan, and then organizing the formation, equipment and training of the legion. In the allied battle line in France, during the last summer of the war, there were 15,000 Poles recruited from the United States—5000 from New York—and they carried into action both the Stars and Stripes and the national flag of Poland.

MORE TRUTH THAN POETRY

By James J. Montague.

THE TASK

Slim little maid with the grim little frown,
Tolling o'er problems till late in the night,
Rubbing out numbers and writing them down,
Always despairing of getting them right;
Lay down the book till the morning is here,
Put on a dimple instead of a pout;
Never a problem was solved by a tear,
Maybe tomorrow we'll figure them out.

Problems and problems, they come to us all,
To vex us, perplex us and tangle our brains;
Hard ones and easy ones, great ones and small,
And little reward do we get for our pains.
We solve one today and tomorrow we find
A bigger one still that remains to be done,
And oh! but the world seems supremely unkind,
With plenty of trouble, and little of fun.

But what can we do but keep pegging away
On all of the tasks that are set us to do,
And hope for the time when there's leisure to play
Before we must bend to our labors anew.
To play for a while, and to sleep and to rest,
Then back to the problems, the same as before,
For most of our answers are still to be guessed,
And all of the future is still held in store.

And when the Great Problem at last shall appear,
To call for the answer that men cannot find,
We'll stick to the task, and for year after year,
We'll toil till our brows are all furrowed and lined,
Through doubt and through fear we'll keep pegging away,
Till realms of solutions are scattered about,
We'll toil till we're beaten, and broken and gray,
But none of us ever will figure it out!

Scandal.

A quiver of intense excitement ran through the little group of eminent scientists who were gathered to witness the first trial of the teloradio-scope, the latest triumph of modern physics. The hitherto impossible was on the point of being achieved, and distant worlds were at last about to be laid open to the critical inspection of the astronomer. Suddenly a cry of horror and amazement escaped from the lips of the learned savant who had been gazing intently through the eye-piece. His hands clenched, his chest caved in, and his tongue lolled listlessly.

"For God's sake, professor," exclaimed the nearest of his associates, "what on earth is the matter?"

"Matter! On earth!" echoed the professor. "I'm positively mortified to death. I've just stumbled upon a young lady undressing on Mars."—Tale Record.

The Frat Pin.

He wore his college frat pin
Just southward of his heart,
And vowed that from that resting place
That pin should ne'er depart.
Years that passed still found him
Ever firm and standing pat,
Still wearing his college frat pin
In honor of his frat.

One day two eyes confused him
His high resolve took chase.
A soft voice coaxed the frat pin
From its old abiding place.
They're now in a little bungalow,
With welcome on the mat,
And the frat pin?—fastens baby clothes
In honor of his frat.
